

Acknowledgements

I owe a deep sense of gratitude to my supervisors Dr. Pabitra Roy and Prof. Manjulika Ghosh for everything they have done for me in the way of inspiring, helping and providing invaluable guidance and also in improving my style and expression. But for them I could not have completed this project.

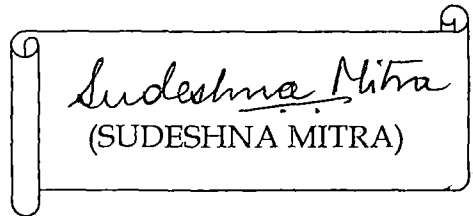

To the teachers of the Department of Philosophy, North Bengal University, I remain grateful for their encouragement and help. I am personally indebted to Prof. S.R. Bhattacharya, Department of Philosophy, Calcutta University and Prof. B. Bhattacharya, Department of Physics, North Bengal University who have inspired me in undertaking and completing this dissertation.

I am thankful to the Librarian and staff of the Central Library, North Bengal University for their active cooperation.

I thank Shri M. Goswami in composing and printing out the thesis in a presentable manner. I also thank M/s. Ideal Institute for photocopying and M/s. Everest Book Binders for binding this work within a short notice.

Finally, though words are not adequate enough, I express my love and gratitude to my near and dear ones who have always been my source of strength, comfort and emotional support.
