

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I owe and acknowledge a colossal debt of gratitude to my supervisor Professor Kamal Kumar Roy, Department of English, University of North Bengal for his extremely valuable guidance at the various stages of this work. I have benefited immensely from his wise counsel, versatile scholarship and perceptive comments.

No less worthy of my gratitude is Dr. Kamala Das, who so painstakingly answered my questionnaires and made accessible for me all her writings including her unpublished ones that provided me with new insights into her work.

I acknowledge with thanks the financial assistance I received as a research fellow during the Eighth Five Year Plan under the Faculty Improvement Programme of the University Grants Commission. I thank the Department of Education, Government of West Bengal for the one year Study Leave from 16 July 1996 to 15 July 1997 during which a significant portion of the research project was carried out, I thank Dr. S. L. Dutta, Development Officer, University of North Bengal, for the help I received from him in connection with my research fellowship.

Dr. Paul L. Love, Director, Centre for New Literature in English, American College, Madurai. Dr. Soonu Kapadia, Head, Department of English, Elphinstone College, Mumbai, Dr. Anjali

Bhelande of Ramnarain Ruia College, Mumbai, Sabiha Al-issa, have greatly helped me in the collection of reading material on Dr. Kamala Das for which I accord them my sincere thanks. I specially recall with gratitude the encouragement, inspiration and numerous types of help and co-operation that I received from Dr. Kapadia throughout my student life in Mumbai, and the deep concern, suggestions and comments of Dr. Bhelande in connection with my research.

My very special thanks to my bother-in-law Mr. Anand Kumar Rai for having helped me in countless ways. He has been a sagacious commentator, an excellent proof-reader and a great source of encouragement.

I am heavily indebted to my wife Lalita Ahmed for her sustained help and support without which this work would have been impossible, I thank her particularly for the sacrifices she has made for this work. I recall with gratitude the co-operation I have received from my little daughter Ignaz. I thank my nieces Upashna and Pravashna for having helped me in various ways. My thanks to all those well-wishers whose names escape my memory.

Ishtiaq Gulam Ahmed