

This dissertation is dedicated to the loving memory of such martyrs as fought and died for the cause of their rights and freedom.

AMIRIBARAKA

(S<mt. Octo^ 7. t934)

I have a dream that one day little black children and little white children will walk together and play together. I have a dream that one day my children will be judged by the content of their character rather than the color of their skins, I have a dream ...