

Acknowledgement

The present dissertation could not have the proper shape without the active guidance and inspiration from my research guide Prof. Tapas Kumar Roy Chaudhury. He was not only instrumental in sorting out and resolving confusions in my research methodology but also in offering many valuable suggestions and access to several useful primary and secondary source materials without which the present thesis could not have materialised.

At Jalpaiguri, I have received help from the Librarian of Azad Hind Pathagar and the Librarian of Jalpaiguri Zilla Granthagar. The extensive help and hospitality offered by Mr. Pronoto Kumar Bose, son of Mrs. Pratibha Bose and Mr. Bose at Jalpaiguri Raikat House could not be forgotten. I had also had discussions with him and Mr. Umesh Sharma about the land tenure-system of the Baikunthapur estate. I owe a deep debt of gratitude for allowing me to consult the Raikat family papers and to take photographs of some rare maps of Jalpaiguri. I am particularly grateful to the management and staff of several institutions for providing access to source materials: The Indian Tea Plantation Association (Jalpaiguri), National Archives of Bhutan, National Archives of India, Delhi; West Bengal State Archives; National Library, Kolkata; West Bengal Secretariat Library; Cooch Behar District Library; Directorate of Land Record and Survey Office, Kolkata, Kolkata High Court and Jalpaiguri Municipality. I would like to extend my special gratitude to the Librarian of Azad Hind Pathagar, Jalpaiguri Mr. Manas Bhattacharyya and Bidisha Chakraborty, Research Officer of West Bengal State Archives; Surya Kanta Karmakar, Librarian at Directorate of Land Record and Survey Office, Kolkata and Suparno Pathak, Senior Editor of Ananda Bazar Patrika; Dr. Amal Das, Head of the Department of History, Kalyani University and Dr. Asoke Ganguly furnished me with useful primary and secondary source materials and have offered valuable suggestions for which I am beholder of them. In this context I tender my sincere thanks to my teachers in the Department of History, North Bengal University to sense my curiosity in history while I was a Post-Graduate and M. Phil. Student. I owe my indebtedness to Prof. J. Kar, Prof. Mandira Bhattacharya, Prof. Chhanda Chakraborty, Dr. A.G. Ghosh, Dr. Ratna Roy Sanyal, Dr. I. Sarkar etc. I am also grateful to the staff of the Central Library of the North Bengal University and of the Seminar Library of the Department of History for their active cooperation. I would like to thank Sajal Dey and R.K. Cyber Zone for typing the entire manuscript. Finally, the constant encouragement and support which I received from my family particularly my parents helped me to complete the work. My wife and my sister sustained me through the hardship of the work with their unfailing cooperation at every stage of this work.

Shesadri Prosad Bose
6.1.05

Shesadri Prosad Bose