My foremost debt of gratitude is due to my supervisor Dr. Manjulika Ghosh, Retired Professor of Philosophy, University of North Bengal, for providing invaluable guidance in writing this thesis. I also wish to put on record the kindness and encouragement of the teachers of the Department of Philosophy which never made me feel myself as an outsider to the Department. I am also indebted to Dr. J.C. Basak, teacher-in-charge, Seminar Library, Department of Philosophy for letting me use it as an ICPR Fellow.

I am grateful to the Indian Council of Philosophical Research, New Delhi for awarding me Junior Research Fellowship and thereby allowing me to explore the potential for this Ph. D. project. I am also grateful to ICPR, New Delhi for allowing using its Library at Lucknow as an ICPR Fellow.

Similarly, thanks are due to Prof. R.P. Singh, School of Philosophy, Jawaharlal Nehru University for arranging a special permission for the ICPR Fellows to the use the Central Library and provide us with the necessary study materials. I am also thankful to IIAS, Shimla for giving me an opportunity to attend a course work on 'Indian Logic and Epistemology', when I got the chance to use its huge library collection. I could collect some rare books and articles from the National Library, Kolkata and do remember it with gratefulness.

I owe a personal indebtedness to my friend, Mr. Ikbal Hussain Ahmed, Research Fellow, University of Delhi for supporting me in various ways.

I am immensely grateful to my parents and other members of my family for their inspiration and encouragement to see me through my years of labor.

Finally, my thanks are to Mr. Sandip Paul for executing the printing and binding of the thesis in a presentable manner.
