

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Twin Deficit phenomenon has received greater concern during the 1980s in the macroeconomic literatures concerning to huge current account deficit in USA. Nepal is also observing this sort of phenomenon for the past five decades. Econometric verifications with application of contemporary time series analytical tools haven't been studied for twin deficit data in Nepal. So, this research endeavor is deemed to be valuable in policy matters and an addition to a new stock of knowledge in the Nepalese macroeconomic literature.

Initial birth of an idea of doing research in this area goes to respected Professor Chandan Kumar Mukhopadhyay. I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude and heartfelt thanks to my respected Professor Chandan Kumar Mukhopadhyay, Ph.D. (Illinois, USA) of the Department of Economics, North Bengal University. This is my great opportunity that I got chances to work under such a great academic personality and scholar. The present work would have been incomplete in the absence of his able guidance, invaluable suggestions, advice and encouragements. He regularly inspired me during the course of present study and went through each and every step of the present work and suggested many improvements despite the heavy pressure of his academic and social life. I, not only got the chances of receiving academic insights from him, but also got a lot to learn the value of time, labor and socialization.

I never forget the applause I received from all the Professors of the Department of Economics and other scholars of NBU at the time of my proposal defense. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Prof. K.K. Bagchi, Prof. Jeta Sankrityayan, Prof. Anil Bhuiyal, Dr. Sanchari Roy Mukherjee and all the professors and research scholars of Department of Economics of NBU for their moral support. Similarly I acknowledge the valuable support of the officials of the Department of Economics and Registrar Office of the NBU.

My special thanks goes to Dr. Arjun Kumar Baral, Lecturer of Post Graduate Campus, Biratnagar, Nepal and his family members who constantly supported and helped me by providing sufficient materials, logistics and other insights during the course of my research work.

I equally indebted to all the well wishers including Mr. Madhav Prasad Bhatta, Mr. Lila Prakash Sitaula, Mr. Ram Jee regmi, Dr. Min Bahadur Shrestha, Mr. Parbat Karki, Mr. Shaligram Daha, Mr. Gopal Ghimire & Ms. Benazir Khan who have shown a deep concern and provided me moral support for my PhD degree. I am grateful to Indira Gandhi National Open University, Study Centre 9600, Kathmandu and its family members also in supporting me for this research work.

I cannot forget also the populace who pushed me for staying at Biratnagar, Nepal despite my adverse health condition after my inadvertent return from Australia. If they hadn't compelled me to stay at Biratnagr, I wouldn't have reaped the locational benefit and capitalized the hard times by registering my PhD at NBU.

My sincere thanks goes especially to the Gurus and friends all from Biratnagar including Dr. Ramesh Dahal, Dr. Bhesh Prasad Dhamala, Dr. Pramod Kumar Jha, Dr. Dipak Rijal,, Dr. Rramesh Adhikari and Mr. Prakash Acharya who have been the source of inspiration to me to proceed for this noble task. I am greatly indebted to Biratnaar City into which I got opportunities of applied education, culture & social value. Thanks Biratnar for bringing me up to this level!

Last minute finishing touch of my thesis wouldn't have been possible if my friends Mr. Pramod Shrestha (Nepal Rastra Bank, Biratnagar, Mr. Mahat Lal Rajbanshi, Mr. Nirmal Subedi and Mr. Pushpa Ghimire (Nepal Bank Limited) had not provided me the supports with computing and other facilities. For this, I would like to acknowledge their kind support.

Finally, my heartfelt affection goes to my beloved wife Mrs. Seema Acharya, and daughters Ms. Shweta and Ms. Simran who shared enduring compassion for being far to me while my frequent detachments with them along the journey of this research study. Their patience and support guided me to a successful path in reaching my destination. Other family members, relatives, friends, well-wishers and neighbors are also thankful to me for providing moral support to complete my job.

The eventual truth is that, it all happened possible by the blessing of God.
