

Contents

Chapter-i : Prologue	1-----38
Section –I : Introduction
The research problem
Assumption and hypothesis
Objectives of the study
Review of literature
Rationales of the study
Section –II : Methodology
a) Hypothesis
b) Method of data collection
c) Tools of investigation and methods of primary data collection
Selection of the area for the study
Chapter-ii : Conceptual framework of the study	39-----77
Leadership
Development
Governance
----- Good governance
Decentralisation
Decentralised governance
Decentralised governance in Bangladesh
----- Decentralisation and Development
----- The constitutional mandate of decentralised governance
-----Tires of decentralised governance

-----Institutional structure

-----Union parishad a unique character of decentralised governance in Bangladesh

Women leadership at decentralised governance in Bangladesh

-----State of women into the decentralised system

-----Actual arrangement for women: Decade's perspective

-----Women in union parishad election (1973-2003)

The present study highlights

Chapter-iii: Rural Development and the Rural Women Leadership:

78 -----103

Rural Development

Rural Development in Bangladesh

Different stage of rural development in Bangladesh

-----Rural works Programme

-----Thana Training and Development Center

-----Thana Irrigation Programme

-----The Cooperative System

-----Integrated Rural Development Programme

-----Bangladesh Rural development Board

-----One Home, One Farm

Problems of rural development

Role of women leadership in rural development

Chapter-iv: Union Parishad : An experimental Overview

104-----153

Union Parishad experiment

Union Parishad experiment in Bangladesh

Present structure

Development of union parishad

Critical analysis of development of union parishad under various regimes :

British regime

Pakistan regime

Bangladesh regime

Working process of union parishad

The latest development

Chapter-v: Problems of Rural Women Leadership

154---188

1. Systematical default of union parishad

A) Structural and environmental anomalies

B) Improper women representation

C) Lack of formulated guideline and implementation of those exist

D) Lack of cordial environment

2. The socio-structural phenomenon

A) Social

B) Economical

C) Political

D) Others

Chapter-vi : Socio-economic Profile of the Study Area

189---198

Physical feature and socio-historical background

Demography

Literacy

Administrative Unit

Transport

Communications

Socio-economic Profile of the Study Area

Chapter-vii : Profile of the leaders (respondents)

199-----219

Age

Education

Experience

Occupation

Income

Landholding

Exposing about media

Cognition of the leaders on pressing problems in the area concerned

Ability to suggest solution the problems

Awareness about responsibilities

Perceptibility of the national issues

The affiliation with various socio-cultural organisations

Types of development projects the local leaders support on priority basis

Time spent for the public works

Linkage with government officials

Link with political parties

Link with national political leaders

Perception about future development

Chapter–viii : Conclusion

220-----230

Summary of findings

Concluding observation

Suggestive remarks

Bibliography

231-----238

QuestionareList of the tables

5.1 Opinion of the leaders about unbalanced Functions-----	158
5.2 Opinion of the leaders about financial sickness-----	159
5.3 Opinion of the leaders about local bureaucratic machineries-----	161
5.4 Opinion of the leaders about role of lawmakers -----	164
5.5 Opinion of the leaders about central Control-----	165
5.6 Opinion of the leaders about limited scope of people's participation-----	166
5.7 Opinion of the leaders about non-coordination with other rural institutions and staffers-----	167
5.8 Opinion of the leaders about anomalies on national planning-----	167
5.9 Opinion of the leaders about Lack of skilled staffers and poor remuneration structure-----	168
5.10 Opinion of the leaders about present staffer's structure---	169
5.11 Opinion of the leaders about law and order management-----	170
5.12 Opinion of the leaders about judicial orientation-----	171
5.13 Opinion of the leaders about political jeopardy on union parishad-----	172
5.14 Opinion of the leaders about frequent empowerment of influential-----	173
5.15 Opinion of the leaders about improper	