

Acknowledgement

The author records her sincere gratitude to Dr. H.P. Bhowmik, Ex-Principal of Government College of Engineering and Leather Technology (GCELT), for his guidance and supervision in the course of the investigation.

Sincere thanks are also due to Principal – Dr. D.S. Mukherjee, my teachers- Sr. Lecturer Swapan Kr Basu, Prof. Dr. Buddhadeb Chattopadhyay, Prof. Dr. Sanjoy Chakrabarty and all colleagues of GCELT.

The author expresses her sincere gratitude and thanks to Mr. A. Sahasranaman, Regional Programme coordinator for pollution control in the Tanning Industry in South – East Asia, for cooperation, inspiration and the financial support from UNDP through him.

Sincere thanks are also due to Dr. R.K. Jain, Scientist, Institute of Microbial Technology, Chandigarh, Dr. T.B. Samanta, Scientist, and Dr. A.K. Halder, Scientist, Bose Institute, Kolkata for their co-operation and help in identifying the bacteria.

The author also acknowledges with thanks the kind co-operation and helpful comments from Mr. S.K. Sachdeba, Vice - President, BATA, Mokamehghat, Bihar and Mr. S.R. Raha, Sr. Manager, BATA, Kolkata during collection of samples from BATA, Mokamehghat, Bihar.

Sincere gratitude are also due to my mother, Smt. Subhadra Halder for inspiration and constant support in the course of this work.

Sincere gratitude are also due to my husband, Mr. Soumen Karmakar and my daughters Soumiya & Sounita for sparing me from day-to-day work and providing me time to complete my work.

Sincere thanks are also due to my brother, Sri Dulal Halder who helped me a lot during project work.

Sincere thanks are also due to Sri Debdas Sarkar who helped me in the preparation of this thesis on computer.

The author also acknowledges the co-operation and help from laboratory assistant- Mr.Subir Mazumder and others of this college for fruitful completion of the work.

Thanks are also due to the authorities of NBU for their support in carrying out the present work.

(Aparna Halder)