I feel extremely grateful and extend my gratitude to my respected Teacher and Supervisor Dr. Abhaya Prasad Das, F.L.S. (London), Professor, Department of Botany, University of North Bengal, who through his every step and works, always sensitized me to love the plants and nature, encouraged to select the challenging topic and with his ambient guidance, suggestions and immense patience lead me to complete the work in a fruitful manner.

It is my pleasure to express my thankfulness to the Head of the Department and all other Teachers of Botany Department University of North Bengal, for their cooperation and support.

I would like to express my gratitude to my Teacher Dr. Binod Chandra Sharma, Assistant Professor, A.B.N. Seal College, Kooch Bihar [Formerly of Darjeeling Govt. College], for introducing and me to my supervisor for the first time.

I gratefully thank all my senior and co-research scholars in the Taxonomy and Environmental Biology Laboratory for their constant help and co-operation during the period of study. Most of the gratitude goes to Dr. Upakar Rai, Associate Professor, St. Joseph's College, Darjeeling, who always supported, corrected, suggested and guided me in the field and in the laboratory during my study period. Likewise, I would like to thank other former and present members of this laboratory, including Dr. R.B. Bhujel, Dr. Dorjay Lama, Dr. P.C. Rai, Dr. Chandra Ghosh, Dr. Santosh Rai, Dr. Sonam R. Lepcha, Dr. Manoranjan Chaudhary, Dr. Ajita Sarkar, Mr. Saurabh Moktan, Mr. Anand Lama, and Mr. Dibakar Choudhary. My special thanks is for Mr. Anurag Choudhary for assisting me for the identification and taxonomic treatment of many aquatic specimens, Mr. Rajiv Biswas for helping in drafting and computing collected data and to Mr. Kishor Biswas for improving the prepared sketches. I never can forgot Late Nabin Singha and Mr. Binod Singha the field and laboratory assistants for their help and support to collect, preserve and processing of specimens leading to the preparation of herbarium sheets.

I would also like to express my to thanks to Mr. Rabin Pradhan, Head Master, Gandhi Memorial High School, Bagdogra for providing leaves and rendering acceptations for my research works.

I always remember my colleagues of Gandhi Memorial High School, Bagdogra and Samsing Higher Secondary School and friends and elder brothers Saphal Thapa, Dr. Sharad Sinha, Pushkar Parajuli, Dilip Pradhan, Pempa Bhotia, Biren Khati and Nilamani Didi for their constant encouragement and cooperation.

I sincerely acknowledge Mrs. Rubi Das, wife of my guide Prof. A. P. Das, for her motherly support and providence of homely environment during my visit to Kolkata.

I also thank my brothers Ashok and Dipak Nirola, nephews Sudip and Sanjeev Sharma, Mr. D. Bhujel of Samthar Busty for helping in many of my field trips and collections.

I also feel happy to thank Mr. Sabhapati, Research Fellow and other scientists and staff members of Central National Herbarium, Botanical Survey of India, Howrah for their all types of help and cooperation in herbarium and literature works.

From the core of my heart, I must acknowledge my wife Pushpa Gurung for her constant tolerance, patience and encouragement for such a long period of my research and likewise I always remain grateful to my daughter Swikriti and son Bhabya as they always found their father was busy with his own works and very rarely spent time with them during his research period.

Lastly, I would like to extend my gratitude to my father Sri Ram Prasad Nirola and mother Smt. Neera Nirola for their constant inspiration.
