

A C K N O W L E D G E M E N T S

It is a great pleasure to acknowledge my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. G.S.S. Marthi, M.Sc., D.Phil (Sc.), Lecturer, Department of Chemistry for suggesting the problem and for his valuable guidance and encouragement through out the course of the work.

As we had no facilities for N.M.R and mass spectrometry, we had to depend on sister laboratories. I wish to thank Prof. H.V. Bhatt, Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore and Dr. M.M. Dhar of the Central Drug Research Institute, Lucknow, for the N.M.R spectra recorded in the thesis and the Director, Indian Institute of Experimental Medicine, Calcutta for the mass spectra. My thanks are also due to Mr. S.L. Dutta, M.Sc., Scientific Officer, University of North Bengal for kindly recording the I.R. spectra.

I also wish to thank Prof. H.S. Khaetgir, Professor of the Chemistry Department, North Bengal University and Dr. T.K. Dasgupta, Lecturer in Chemistry, North Bengal University for many interesting and stimulating discussions.

I gratefully acknowledge my thanks to the University Grants Commission for the award of a Junior Research Fellowship. I would like to place on record, my thanks to the authorities of the University of North Bengal for providing me with laboratory facilities.

I also wish to thank my colleagues Mr. A. Dasgupta, M.Sc. and Mr. A. Goswami, M.Sc. for active co-operation during the progress of the work.

I am thankful to the non-teaching staff of the Department particularly Mr. A. Chakraborty and Mr. K. B. Sarayaa for active co-operation during the research period.

I am grateful to Mr. M. Chakraborty for typing the thesis.

I would like to record my deep sense of appreciation to my friends Mr. T. R. Joarder and Miss Aruna Das for their constant inspiration.

Finally I would like to express my deep feelings to my beloved parents and elder brother for the constant encouragement, they have rendered so far.
