

Acknowledgement

Professor Dr. Martin Menzi said, "I challenge you for a Ph.D." I am indebted for the challenge without which I may not have started this research at all. I am grateful to Professor Dr. Peter König for approving the budget and time, and for his continuous encouragement and support during his tenure as Resident Coordinator of Helvetas/SDC in Bhutan. My gratitude goes to Mr. Werner Külling, Secretary General of Helvetas, Switzerland, for his concern about the progress of my research work. My research work had begun during the tenure of Mr. Dieter Zürcher as Bhutan Helvetas Desk Officer in Switzerland, and during his tenure as Resident Coordinator, Helvetas/SDC, Bhutan, this work has been completed. I would like to thank him immensely for his understanding, support, encouragement and valuable comments. Helvetas has resourced this study with time, funds, and materials. Without these, it would have been impossible to complete this study. I am deeply grateful and obliged to it.

I record my special gratitude to Lyonpo Yeshey Zimba, Minister of Finance, and Head of Government (July 2000 to June 2001), Royal Government of Bhutan, who provided me with a letter enabling me to collect data from different sources. During this research, I have received lot of encouragement from many friends, who are too many to name here. I am very grateful to all of them and especially Mr. Thakur Singh Powdyel, Director, Centre for Education and Research Division, Paro.

Dr. T. K. Chatterjee, Registrar of the North Bengal University (NBU) has encouraged me all along my research work. I am very grateful to him. Mrs. Gauri Sen, Ph.D. Cell, NBU, was responsible for my enrolment, and for finding a supervisor for my research work. Whenever I met her, she asked me of my progress and encouraged me to complete my work. I am indeed very grateful to her.

Professor Dr. Pradip Kr. Sengupta, Dean, Faculty Council for P.G. studies in Arts, Commerce and Law Departments, and Director, Distance Education, NBU, has been my mentor behind the scene. I would like to thank him and express my immense gratitude for the support, advice and help. I am grateful to Professor Dr. Pijushkanti Saha, Vice-Chancellor, NBU, for giving us his valuable time/advice despite his very busy schedule. My heartfelt thanks go to other members of the NBU for their kind advice and support in different matters.

I am greatly obliged to my supervisor, Dr. S. N. Dhar, Reader and Head of Department of Commerce, University of North Bengal, Raja Rammohanpur, Dist. Darjeeling, for his constructive criticism, fruitful suggestions, friendly treatment, advice and guidance. Without his continuous push, encouragement, support and guidance, I could not have completed this work.

My family deserve a very special mention for supporting and bearing with me throughout my tedious work schedule.
