

A C K N O W L E D G E M E N T

At the very beginning I express my deep sense of gratitude to my learned guide Dr. Manas Das Gupta, Professor of Economics, North Bengal University, whose sustained encouragement and invaluable guidance made this challenging task complete. His role will remain a source of enduring inspiration to me throughout my life.

My gratitude is due to Dr. D. P. Pande, Dr. K. C. Sharma and Sri J. N. Chakraborty of the Department of Commerce, North Bengal University and to Sri S. K. Chakraborty, Principal, Malda College for their constant encouragement and active support to me.

I express my sincere gratitude to Dr. D. B. Dutta, the Vice-Chancellor, North Bengal University, whose interests in this field inspired me to initiate the study.

My gratitude is also due to the Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi for sanctioning a suitable grant towards the presentation of this doctoral thesis.

The arduous task of collection of data from entrepreneurs could be accomplished with the active co-operation of the District Industries Centres, Banks, Financial Institutions and the District Associations of Small-Scale Units in North Bengal. I am grateful to Shri D. Biswas, General Manager, DIC, Malda for lending all possible co-operation to me. I also owe my thanks to the General Manager, DICs of West Dinajpur, Darjeeling, Jalpaiguri and Cooch Behar Districts for permitting me to collect necessary data relating to the Small-Scale Units. My thanks are also due to Shri P. K. Bose, Divisional Manager, Central Bank of India, Siliguri, Shri S. P. Biswas, District Development Officer, United Bank of India, Malda, Shri M. Roy, Manager, WBFC, Malda and Shri B. K. Dutta, Manager, WBFC, Siliguri who were kind enough to supply necessary data relating to this study.

I express my heartfelt thanks to my affectionate students Shri Dipankar Sinha, Malda and Shri Partha Chakraborty, Lecturer in Commerce, Cooch Behar College who rendered valuable assistance to me during sample survey in connection with this study.

I also express thanks to my wife Gita, who assisted me by doing lot of paper works at home.

Lastly, in the completion of this study, I was helped and assisted by more persons than I can possibly acknowledge individually here.

Malda,
December, 1984.
