

A C K N O W L E D G E M E N T

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my teacher and supervisor, Dr. Samar Kumar Misra, Reader, Department of Commerce, Malda College under University of North Bengal. It was a great pleasure to work under his supervision for his valuable guidance, constructive criticisms, inspiring and sustained interest throughout the period of investigation and preparation of this thesis. I confess that without his help, it would not have been possible for me to complete this research work.

I owe a debt of immense gratitude to Dr. Ranju Gopal Mukherjee, Vice-Chancellor and Dr. T.K.Chatterjee, Registrar, University of North Bengal, for extending their kind co-operation and encouragement in various ways.

I will be failing in my duties if I do not mention the name of Dr. Hillol Kumar Chakraborty, Head of the Department of Economics of North Bengal University, who helped and actively encouraged me in various fields for satisfactory progress of the work.

I am also grateful to all of my teachers in the Departments of Economics and Commerce of North Bengal University for their valuable suggestions. In particular, I am grateful to Dr. Manas Dasgupta (Professor), Dr. J.C. Debnath (Professor and Dean, Faculty of Arts), Mr. Jeta Sankrityayana,

I express my heartfelt thanks to my affectionate students who rendered valuable services during the sample survey in connection with this study.

I am thankful to Mr. M. Chakraborty, Typist, who painstakingly did the work of typing with much accuracy.

I can not but acknowledge the co-operation extended to me by the respondents and those who provided me opportunities for knowing their problems.

Last but not the least, thanks are due to my wife, Dipti Roy and son - Amarjit, for their continuous encouragements and active supports needed for steady progress of the work. They assisted me by doing a lot of paper works at home and relieved me from many family responsibilities.
