

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the beginning of this acknowledgement, I would like to express my obligation to the University of North Bengal, an institution of higher education, where I got the opportunity to carry on my research work.

I feel privilege to express my indebtedness and gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Kanti Lal Das, Professor, Department of Philosophy, N.B.U. I am indebted to him for his guidance, valuable suggestions whenever I needed. In spite of his busy academic and directorial schedules, he was extremely kind enough to help me to complete this thesis within a stipulated period.

I also express my heartiest gratitude to the teachers of the Department of Philosophy of N.B.U where I got the degree of M.A. In this regard, I particularly call upon the name of Dr. Raghunath Ghosh, Professor, Department of Philosophy, N.B.U, for his whole hearted co-operation and constant inspiration in this work. I am also grateful to Prof. Jyotish Chandra Basak for his suggestions and valuable comments. I am grateful to Dr. Nirmal Kumar Roy, Head of the department of Philosophy for his kind co-operation and inspiration. I am also grateful to Dr. Koushik Joardar, Dr. Debika Saha, Dr. Anirban Mukherjee and Dr. Laxmikanta Padhi for their valuable suggestions.

I also thank all staff members of N.B.U for extending their hands of co-operation. Central Library, N.B.U, Department Library of Philosophy, N.B.U, ICPR Library, Lucknow, without their help it would be impossible for me to complete this work.

I would always remain grateful to the Indian Council of Philosophical Research for giving me Junior Research Fellowship from 2.09.2010 to 1.09.2012 which helped me as a financial support to carry on my research work.

I am grateful to my friends, my well-wishers who helped me directly or indirectly in completing my research work.

Finally, I am expressing my love and gratitude to my parents and my maternal aunt who have always been my source of inspiration, strength and emotional support. And I also express thank to Dipti Xerox for their sincere and careful computerized printing of this thesis.
