

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge my deep sense of gratitude and thanks to my guide and mentor Dr. Dipen Roy, Professor, Department of Commerce, University of North Bengal for his timely advice, constant encouragement, and inspiration during the entire period of my research work.

I am indebted and grateful to Prof. P. R. Sengupta, Ex-Dean of Faculty of Arts, Commerce and Law and Prof. Indrajit Ray, Head, Department of Commerce, NBU for their kind suggestions and invaluable advice that instilled me the spirit to complete the work.

I would also like to express my sincere thanks and due respect to Prof. Debasish Bhattacharya , Prof. S.N. Dhar, Prof. Hirak Ray, Prof. Debabrata Mitra, and Mr. Joy Sarkar, Assistant Professor and all the Non-teaching staff of Department of Commerce, University of North Bengal who have helped me in various ways by providing constructive inputs and insights to my research.

Furthermore, I am greatly indebted to the CFOs and Directors of responding companies, who spared their valuable time and provided all necessary information required for this research. Without their help the study could not have been completed.

I convey my regards for my elder brother Prof. Arun Hota, Department of Hindi, West Bengal State University, who has always been a source incessant motivation and inspiration in all the endeavours of my life.

I acknowledge the active support and cooperation extended by Mr. Babul Biswas for nice composing and printing of this thesis.

I deeply express my indebtedness to Ranjana my wife for her persistent love, constant support and endless sacrifices, without which the work could not be completed. I express my love for my son Divyansh, for the sacrifices of enjoyable time made by him which should have been devoted to him that I used for completing my work.
