

PREFACE

With an overwhelming happiness I express my deep sense of sincere gratitude to all those who bestowed me with their enduring help, support and guidance for the successful completion of my thesis. This thesis would not have been possible without the invaluable mentorship of my supervisor Professor Usha Chakraborty, Plant Biochemistry Laboratory, Dept. of Botany, University of North Bengal. Over the past five years of my interaction with her, I have developed a deep respect for her ability to tolerate, appreciate, support and encourage any crude ideas with an encouraging smile.

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to Professor B.N. Chakraborty for his suggestion, support and encouragement throughout my work. He always inspires me to remain focused in research by sharing the hardships faced during his research days.

I would like to thank Vice-Chancellor, Registrar, and Dean of the Faculty of Science, NBU and all the earlier and present Head of Botany Department, NBU for providing all the facilities necessary for conducting my research work. It has been a wonderful experience to carry on my research work in the Department of Botany, University of North Bengal.

I sincerely acknowledge the judicious help and advices delivered by Professor A.P.Das, Professor P.K.Sarkar, Professor A. Saha, Professor A. Sen, Dr.S.C.Roy, Dr. P. Mandal and Dr. M.Chowdhury and all members of the department for their unconditional help and co-operation.

I have gained enormously through my interaction with Professor A.P.Das who has always provided me with untiring help during my course of study. Most importantly, his suggestion in taxonomical aspects of my study besides identification of my plant sample is invaluable. Also, I must thank Dr. M. Chowdhury who has also helped me in the identification of some of the herbs under study.

I record my gratitude to the programme co-ordinators (DRS-I, II & III) of UGC-SAP, Department of Botany for availing the instrumentation facility.

I take this opportunity to express my earnest gratefulness to Microbial Type Culture Collection, Chandigarh for supplying microbial cultures and the Director of Sophisticated Analytical Instruments Facility – JNU, New Delhi for availing GC-MS facility.

I owe special thanks to Dr. Kuldeep Rai, Spice Board of India, Sikkim for his help in identifying the spice samples, and Mr. Shantanu Sarkar for providing me some of the spice samples from Masala Centre, Broadway, Ernakulam, Cochin.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge the enormous support and assistance received from Dr. Rohini Lama, Dr. Bhumika Pradhan, Dr. Nishika Jaishee, Ms. Jayanwita Sarkar, Ms. Priyanka Bhattacharjee, Dr. Swarnendu Roy, Mr. Sukanta Majumdar, Mr. Jayanta Chowdhury, Dr. Kiran Sunar, Dr. Arka Pratim Chakraborty, Dr. Utanka Kr. De, Dr. Amrita Acharya, Dr. Somnath Roy, Ms. Pushpanjali Ray, Ms. Sweata Khati, Mr. Shibu Barman and Mr. Prasenjit Chakraborty and other Research Scholars of the Department of Botany throughout this endeavor.

I wish to thank fieldmen Sambhu Banik for maintaining the rats in good condition during the days of experiment at Animal House.

It would be unfair from my part if I would not convey my heartiest thank to Mr. Sunil Barman, Mr. Swapan Kr. Hom and Mr. Tapan Kr. Das for their enduring support, concern and care that have always been a source of happiness and encouragement.

I extend my special thanks to Mr. Subashish Paul, Research Scholar, Deptt. of Zoology who helped a lot during the collection of organs and blood samples from experimental rats.

I immensely acknowledge Dr. Tapas K Chakraborty (Deptt. of Botany, Rishi Bankim Chandra College, West Bengal State University) and Dr. Niladri Hazra (Dept. of Zoology, University of Burdwan) for their constant support and suggestions for my research work.

Most solemnly, I would express my sincere and deepest gratitude to my loving parents and in-laws, sister Anamika, Mousumi and Shuvashree for their endless understanding, inspiration, love, care, encouragement and support which enabled me to achieve and complete my endeavor. I offer my thanks to all my relatives and friends for their encouragement and support.

I must express my gratitude to Munmun, my beloved wife for her patience, continued support and encouragement during the hard days of my life.

Above all, I thank Almighty God for showering his blessing on me to hold patience and will power in life.
