

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis would not have been possible without the guidance and the help of several individuals who in one way or another contributed and extended their valuable assistance in the preparation and completion of the study.

First and foremost I would like to express my deep and sincere gratitude to my supervisor Professor Ranajit Kumar Bhadra, Professor (rtd.), Department of Sociology, University of North Bengal. He has been incredibly generous not only with his able guidance and counseling, but also with his faith and confidence in me. He has been a true mentor throughout the entire process of writing the thesis. I am fortunate to have been under his guidance. I am truly indebted to him for his valuable suggestions, constructive criticism and knowledge on the topic.

I express my sincere gratitude to Professor Mita Bhadra for her views on the topic, in depth knowledge and encouragement. I would also like to thank Professor Rajat Subhra Mukhopadhyay, Professor Sanjay K. Roy, Dr. Saswati Biswas and Dr. Swatahsiddha Sarkar for their valuable suggestions and cooperation.

I have derived enormous personal benefit from my time spent with the respondents and people of the study area. Without their help and cooperation, it would be very difficult for me to complete the present work. I earnestly thank all of them. I am also indebted to Sri Dulal Dutta, Councilor Ward No. 38, Siliguri Municipal Corporation (SMC), Sri Dhruba Sen Sharma, Ward Secretary, Sri Ranjit Shil who, in spite of their preoccupations, have spared valuable time to introduce me with the respondents.

I am forever indebted to my parents Sri Ranajit Kumar Roy and Smt. Chandrani Roy for their unwavering belief in me and endless patience. I am also grateful to my elder brother Sri Rudrajit Roy, my elder sister Smt. Nabamita Roy Chakroborti and brother-in-law Sri Rajiv Chakroborti for their support. Their love and encouragement was in the end what made this thesis possible.

Incalculable and inexpressible, however, is my debt to my friends and colleagues Sri Tirthankar Bhattacharjee, Dr. Rajib Chaterjee, Dr. Hasibul Rahaman, Dr. Panchali Sengupta, Dr. Anjan Chakrabarti and Sri Sujoy Kanti Ghoshal for their continuous intellectual stimulation and scientific academic reviews of my writings.

Finally, I offer my regards to all of those who supported me in any respect during the completion of the thesis.
