

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

“At times our own light goes out and is rekindled by a spark from another person. Each of us has cause to think with deep gratitude of those who have lighted the flame within us.”

—Albert Schweitzer

A voyage of thousand kilometres commences merely with a single creep. Yes, sure, however, this is not a single individual effort by anyone himself, because, it is really difficult walking alone, if not entirely impossible. There are joining hands with oneself on such way. Among them, one is the blessing element by sparking and lighting the flame; another guiding and supervising, carrying towards the final destination, and thus enforcing completion of the assignment; very few driving with the effort of continuation; few persuading with art, craft, and management; some friendly with advice and suggestions; and others adjoining with helping attitudes. They bless and spark by lighting their own and provide guiding, supervising, enforcing, driving, persuading wisdom and knowledge including initial forces of hope and encouragement. In my research voyage, I totally feel privileged to have blessing, sparking, and lighting from the only one; guiding, supervising, and enforcing again and again from the another one; and driving, persuading, joining, and adjoining effects from so many personnel. Therefore, this opportunity has been tabbed by me to express my deep sense of gratitude for those who made my research work easily accessible and possible to come out in the form of Ph.D. thesis.

“The dream begins with a teacher who believes in you, who tugs and pushes and leads you to the next plateau, sometimes poking you with a stick called ‘truth’.”

—Dan Rather
