My research work on "Agriculture in Sikkim with special reference to the mixed farming of La-chen and La-chung valleys of North Sikkim" would have remained incomplete had I not received inspiration, guidance and co-operation and taken help and suggestions from different sources.

Foremost among them is Dr. Manas Dasgupta, my revered teacher and guide who from the initial stage of planning till the completion of my research work has helped me and guided me in various ways which are all beyond my narration here. All I can say humbly is that I am very grateful and deeply indebted to him forever.

I am also very grateful to a number of Government Departments officers and office-staff in Gangtok, Sikkim. The Government Departments of Sikkim from where I received the greatest help and co-operation are the Forest Secretariat, Krishi Bhavan and Animal Husbandry. I am very grateful to Mr. N.C. Shenga, Secretary Forest Secretariat (my college-mate) who rendered to me invaluable service by making available to me very, very rare published materials as well as by deputing one of his office-staff, Mr. Tshigyel Lachungpa B.O. who made all necessary arrangements for my accommodation in the Forest Dak bungalow while I was in La-chung for doing my field-work. I record here the name of Mr. Tshigyel La-chungpa with deep gratitude not only for making arrangements for my accommodation at La-chung, but also for acting as my interpreter in the midst of La-chung tribals and as my guide taking me in his own vehicle to the important pastures of La-chung such as Yumthang, 11,850 ft. and Yumisandong at an elevation of about 15,000 ft.

My visit to the valley of La-chen and to a number of upland pasture that side, upto Goigong at a height of 16,092 ft. approximately and conducting my field-work there had been possible due to the help and co-operation I received from two officers - Dr. S. Paljor, Add. Director, Animal Husbandry Department, Government of Sikkim and Dr. B.K. Pradhan, Animal Husbandry Chungthang, North Sikkim. Dr. B.K. Pradhan being directed by Dr. S. Paljor from Gangtok did everything needful for my accommodation while I was in Chungthang and from Chungthang while proceeding to La-chen provided transport for me as well as a stockman, Mr. Tshering Bhutia who acted as my interpreter and also my guide taking me to upland pastures, such as Thanggu, Chhopta, Tsheguk. Lukhereep, Gnochoong, Goigong etc., and to the tents of a number of yak herders. Very gratefully I record their names here. In Animal Husbandry Department, another officer to whom I am thankful is Dr. M.K. Rai, Jt. Director who gave me the information that rare published materials on yak and yak husbandry relevant to my research-work are available only in Nepal. My elder brother, Mr. B.K. Rai who lives in Kathmandu helped me to trace those books for my reference. I am, therefore, very thank to them.

Again I acknowledge very gratefully the help offered to me by my college-mate Miss Mani Pradhan, Deputy Secretary, Public Service Commission, Government of Sikkim in getting important government documents, even despatching the xeroxed copies to me from Gangtok.

I extend further my deep gratitude to Mr. N.B. Khatibada, Advocate and Mr. H.P. Sharma, Registrar, High Court, Government of Sikkim for their help in getting some valuable documents on legal proceedings of the High Court and Government Notification on Land Management Systems and Government Notifications on Agrarian Reforms in Sikkim. Mr. Sharma had been so helpful as to provide for me the xeroxed copies of all these Government Notifications. The other officers to whom I shall ever remain grateful are Mr. C. Lachungpa, D.F.O, Wild Life, Mr. D.S. Chhettri, R.O., Mr. Dawa Lachungpa, B.O. and Mr. Tshering Bhutia, stockman.

For my accommodation at Gangtok, during my frequent visits there, I am very thankful to my nephew Mr. P.D. Lama and family. Also thankful am I to my another nephew, Mr. Dhruva Thapa who very kindly accompanied me to the high lands of North Sikkim during my field-work.

This is again an opportunity to record my thanks to Dr. R.R. Bhamala, Director, C.H.S. and Dr. Tanka B. Subba, North Bengal University (Dr. Subba now Reader in North Eastern Hill University) for helping me in getting books from the Centre of Himalayan Studies, N.B.U. and for other useful suggestions. Similarly I am grateful to Mr. K.B. Chhettri, Librarian, Central Library, Kālimpong who allowed me to use the reference books of the library any time I required them.

I would like to record my deep gratitude to U.G.C, Delhi for granting me under its F.I.P. one year study-leave which has enabled me to complete my research-work, and to the Research Scholars' Association, N.B.U. for arranging my accommodation at Women Research Scholars' Hostel during my study period of one year.

Finally, I very fondly cherish the names of my mother late Smt. D.L. Rai and my father late Sri A.M. Rai who had always been a constant source of inspiration and encouragement in my studies. I do so again the name of my Cmde A. Dhir for encouraging me in completing my research work without further delay.
