

Acknowledgment:

After a long peiriodic survey and investigation I have completed my long awaiting work in the form of thesis for the fulfilling the degree of doctor of philosophy in my subject History. Naturally in the way of this research journey I have been provoked, inspired, guided and assisted by too many numbers of professors, teachers, kins and kiths, friends, colleagues, officials, academic and non-academic institutions and many other well wishers. But for the lack of space in traditional form I am here to acknowledge those abstract and non-abstract helping hands and helping minds below.

I have to thank first and foremost persons in completing the study for my supervisor, professor Ananda Gopal Ghosh who guiding, innovating my ideas in this field and also providing valuable sources concerned throughout the period of the work. Under his supervision the work has been completed properly. After him the person who encouraged and guided me academically is Dr. Ashim Kr. Sarkar, the Principal, Gour Mahavidyalay, Malda.

I am also owed greatly to the University of North Bengal for enrolling me for doing Ph.D. in the Department of History. In this all the faculties of the Department of History and the General Library of the University of North Bengal and their staffs always helped me readily. Prof. Bijay Kr. Sarkar, Dr. Daliya Bhattachary, Dr. Sudas Lama, Mr. Barun sir, Dr. Anita Bagchi, Prof. Ratna Roy Sanyal all encouraged me in different times for the completion of the work.

I got large volume of assistance from the authority and the staffs of National Librar, Kolkata, Asiatic Society of Bengal, Kolkata, State Archive of West Bengal, Kolkata, Uttarpara Library, Hoogli, Anthropological Survey of India, Kolkata, Archaeological Survey of India, Gouhati University Archive and Library, North Bengal State Library, Cooch Behar and many others. All of them deserve lots of thanks fro their collaboration.

The Colleagues of my college Sri Sujay Debnath, Sri Laltu Barman, Sri Nirmalya Barman and the President, Sri Swapan Saha, also assisted me in sharing views and developing thoughts. Most importantly the number of students and alike such as Chaitali Ghosh, Priyanka Saha, Rocky, Amal, Sayani Saha helped me lot in Xeroxing, typing and computing during my writing of this work. In this respect it should be mentioned that my mother, mother-in-law, Father-in-law had their blessings and expectations led me turned to complete this work.

However, the last but the most encouraging person behind the completion of this work was my wife who continuously encouraged me with her laborious efforts and did not leave hope till the end of this work.

Finally it is the North Bengali people with whom, during my work, I got exchanges views and shared feelings and approaches led me in completion of this work. So the dedication of this work goes to them.
