Thank you Lord for your grace!

This research work would not have been possible without the strong support and encouragement of many people and institutions and I would like to take this opportunity to extend my gratitude to them. I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my supervisor Professor Anup Kumar Datta for his expertise, constant motivation, guidance, cooperation and support throughout my research. Regardless of his responsibilities and busy schedule he has rendered full attention, patient hearing. His thought provoking conversation, constructive criticism, prompt direction and apt guidance has helped and shaped my study. He has provided unending motivational enthusiasm for my research, and has always gone above and beyond what is expected of an academic mentor to support my development as a scholar. Thank you sir for believing in me. I am extremely grateful to Professor Maya Ghose for her kind words, concern, support and motivation through my research period and beyond.

My gratitude to National Institute for Advance Studies and Institute of Peace and Conflict Studies for selecting me to attend the fifth Annual Residential Young Scholars' Workshop on Global Nuclear Politics and Strategy 2015, and for providing me with the opportunity to interact with world renowned academician, thank thanks, nuclear scientist, special mention to Late Ambassador Arundhati Ghose for her interest and valuable input on my study. Special thanks to Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and Central University of Gujarat for selecting me to attend Workshop on Strategic Issues for Young Scholars 2017, which was a perfect platform to get feedback on my research work.

I express my heartfelt thanks to all the teachers in the Department of Political Science, North Bengal University for their kind cooperation. I extend my thanks to the library staffs at North Bengal University, Jadavpur University, National Library Kolkata, Jawaharlal Nehru University, Sikkim University, Indian Council for World Affairs, Institute of Defense and Strategic Analysis, Institute of Peace and Conflict Studies for their assistance and cooperation.

Finally, I could have not been able to accomplish this assignment without the unconditional love, support and inspiration from my parents Bishnu Chettri and Kishor Roka, my siblings Deepshika and Deeprekha, my friend Sanjeeb Lama and my uncle Rajendra Pradhan.. Thank you for believing in me, cheering me up and standing by me through the good times and bad. I also thank all my well wishers.
