

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In completing my research study, a number of academicians, scholars and institutions have helped me in various ways. It is my privilege to acknowledge all of them here.

Foremost, I express my sincere and respectful gratitude to my supervisor, Dr. Kanak Kanti Bagchi, Professor, Department of Economics, University of North Bengal, for his valuable guidance in carrying out of my research work. Despite his own heavy work he look keen interest and spared time for me. I can humble say that without his valuable suggestions it would not have been possible for me to complete study. I also thank all the teachers of the Department of Economics, University of North Bengal, for their encouragement in undertaking Ph.D. work.

In carrying out field surveys in connection with the study, I received support and assistance from a large number of people. The sample agricultural labourers interviewed were invariably very cordial and patient enough to answer all the questions asked.

I had to do a good deal of library work. Besides the library of North Bengal University, I had to depend on V.V.Giri National Labour Institute, Library, Noida, Gauhati University Library, Library of Indian Institute of Entrepreneurship (IIE), Guawahati and Library of Economics Department, North Bengal University. I would like to thank the authorities of all the five libraries for allowing me to use the libraries.

The award of Teacher Fellowship by the University Grants Commission (UGC) and the Study Leave by the B.B.Kishan College, Jalah is acknowledged gratefully.

My special thanks goes to my colleagues and to the staff of the College for their help and co-operation.

I would also like to thank Mr. Asis Kumar Nag for his sincere computer typing work which has helped me to complete the work within the stipulated time frame.

My affection goes to my beloved wife Manju and my daughters, Moonsoon, Rimzim and Jyotirupa who have been to me a perennial source of inspiration and co-operation for completion of Ph.D. work.
