

Acknowledgement

In the act of preparing my thesis, I have had the proud privilege to acknowledge my indebtedness to my erudite late husband Dr. Ratnadip Mitra who was and still is the source of constant inspiration. Dr. Ananda Gopal Ghosh, the former Professor of History in North Bengal University, an outstanding creative thinker, assisted me by all means. His assistance is quite remarkable. Dr. Dahlia Bhattacharya, the Head of the Department of History, North Bengal University, who had been entrusted with the heavy responsibility to supervise my thesis, has provided me with valuable suggestions and assistance. I acknowledge my whole hearted gratitude to her. Prof. Rupayan Mukherjee, my colleague turned younger brother, has rendered a precious contribution in composing my thesis, for which I am grateful to him. I availed the opportunity to come in contact with prolific writer Dr. Ashru Kumar Sikdar at his residence. During the brief stay, I enriched myself with his observations relating to post partition scenario of North Bengal. My childhood friend Dr. Srabani Ghosh, has constantly encouraged me with valuable suggestions, I am also indebted to my student Moidul Islam for various services which he has rendered relating to my research. Bhaskar Sengupta's contribution in this respect is also praise worthy and I am grateful to him. My colleagues and well wishers like Professor Iva Ghosh, Dr. Joydip Sarkar, Dr. Anindya Bhattacharjee, Prof. Shelly Das, Dr. Rupan Sarkar and Dr. Amlan Guha Thakurta extended their help and cooperation, for which I am indebted to them. I also extent my gratefulness to different institutions, archives, libraries like North Bengal University Central Library, National Library; West Bengal State Archives; The Himalayan Studies of North Bengal University; Centre for Social Studies, Kolkata; Women Studies of Jadavpur University; Refugee Rehabilitation Offices of different North Bengal Districts; Ramkrishna Mission of Goal Park, Kolkata; Refugee Relief and Rehabilitation Department, Rajarhat etc. I convey my hearty thanks to those uprooted persons who shared their experiences during the course of my interviews.

This thesis would not have been possible without the affectionate blessings of my parents, my Father and Mother in laws and other intimate relations and well wishers.

Madhuparna Mitra Guha.
7.12.18

Madhuparna Mitra Guha