For the completion of my thesis I had to take the help and guidance of various persons who deserve my deepest sense of gratitude. I owe my sincerest gratitude to Dr. Indira Lepcha (nee) Lama, Associate Professor, Department of Geography and Applied Geography, University of North Bengal, for giving me a good guideline so that I have been able to undertake the research on Rural Development. I pay my profound gratitude to her for her numerous consultations and untiring help for the completion of this work. I am highly indebted to my supervisor for the time she has given to read the details of all the chapters of my thesis and without her help this work could never have been completed. I would also like to extend my gratitude to all my respected teachers and staffs of the Department of Geography and Applied Geography, University of North Bengal, for their concern and cooperation in all the matters related to this work. I am grateful to all the library staff, Central Library, University of North Bengal, for the services they provided me for preparing my thesis.

I wish to thank the staffs of the Department of Bureau of Applied Economics and Statistics, D.M. Office, Jalpaiguri, for their suggestions which helped me a lot during my extensive field study. I owe a lot to my parents Sri Pranab Kumar Das and Smt. Sukla Das who encouraged me and helped me in every stage of my academic and personal life which inspired me to enrich my work. I am extending my heartfelt thanks to my husband Sri Subhankar Dam for his proper mental boost up and inspiration. His understanding enabled me to devote more time necessary to complete this thesis. I am extremely grateful and thankful for his continuing support. Finally, I am grateful to each and every person who has come into my life and has illumined me for the successful completion of my thesis.
