

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is my privilege to record my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Samar Kumar Biswas, Associate Professor, Department of Anthropology, University of North Bengal, Darjeeling, West Bengal whose excellent supervision, able guidance, valuable suggestions and constant encouragement which enabled me to complete the present Ph.D. thesis.

I respectfully offer my sincere thanks to Prof. Jaydip Sen, Professor, Department of Anthropology, University of North Bengal and Dr. Pinak Tarafder, Assistant Professor Department of Anthropology, University of North Bengal for their encouragement and providing various facilities for the timely completion of the thesis. Thanks are also due to all the staffs of the Department of Anthropology for their help and encouragement during the pursuit of the thesis.

I am extremely grateful to the Director, Anthropological Survey of India for giving me permission to register myself for the Ph.D. work. Thanks are also due to the then Head of Office, Anthropological Survey of India Andaman and Nicobar Regional Centre, Port-Blair for providing me opportunity to work among the Jarawa during the period from 2011 to 2017. I am indebted to my senior officials and colleagues namely Dr. M. Sasikumar, Shri Kanchan Mukhopadhyay, Dr. Umesh Kumar, Shri. S. S. Barik, Dr. Piyusa Ranjan Sahoo, Siddhartha Shit, Dr. Mopada Nani Babu and Dr. Shiv Kumar Patel for helping me in many ways throughout the study.

I express my thankfulness to Andaman Administration, particularly the Secretary (TW), Director, Tribal Welfare and Executive Secretary, Andaman Adim Janjati Vikas Samiti and their abled staffs namely Shri. Anup Mondal, Dipu, Swapan, Bibhuti, Nimai etc. for providing me necessary cooperation related with the present work and extending all possible help and logistic support during the course of the field work.

Heartfelt thanks to my wife Nipuna for providing me constant inspiration and support and to my little daughter Arohi who indeed sacrificed a part of her childhood towards this work. I owe a deep sense gratitude to my parents and other family members for their incessant encouragement throughout my academic pursuits.

Last, but not the least, I would ever remain indebted to all the Jarawa of Andaman Islands, the subject of my thesis, who were always benign and kind to me and despite the hurdle of the language helped me in innumerable way during the field work.

Date: 23.09.2019

Place: NBU

AMIT KUMAR GHOSH