

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The successful completion of this study has been possible due to help, support and cooperation of several individuals; and this is to express gratitude and thanks to all of them. In this world nobody is self sufficient, be it man or any other creature. If one claims himself that he does not need anything, then the person is either living in ivory tower or in the fool's paradise. At the very outset I would like to acknowledge my sincere thanks and gratitude to my Guru Mata Prof. Gangotri Chakraborty, former Head of the Department of Law,

University of North Bengal, for lending me her valuable time, wisdom and expert guidance in the entire process, without which it would have been impossible for me to complete this work. Despite having a very busy schedule, she was ready to help in any moment I asked for. I have been highly benefited rather lucky of being guided by a person like her who is encouraging, innovative and dynamic.

I am also indebted to Late Prof. Bishnu Prasad Dwivedi who inspired me a lot and constantly on showering well wishes, support and expert advice since the days of my LLM and also supported me a lot from when I got registered as a Ph.D scholar in Law in the University of North Bengal. But it is my misfortune that he is no more in this world to see me complete my research.

I am also deeply grateful to Dr. Rathin Bandyopadhyaya, Head of the department of Law, North Bengal University, who has always encouraged me to break new horizons through his penetrating questions and inquisitive mind. I am also grateful to Dr. Sujit Kr. Biswas, Assistant Professor in Law who has been a teacher in the guise of a friend. He has always given me an elder brotherly support through his critical feedbacks. I am also grateful to Dr. Biswajit Chatterjee who is presently a Secretary to the Vice-Chancellor of North Bengal University but has been my teacher in my LL.B days. The journey with sir has been a journey into the realm of legal thinking. He has always inspired me and encouraged me in the pursuit of my research.

I am extremely thankful to Mr. Santanu Chanda, Assistant Librarian of Law and Mr. Amal Dhar, the library staff for their hearty assistance in searching out the relevant study materials for the present work.

My appreciation and gratitude has no bound towards Sri Ananda Kudu. He has been always encouraging and supporting to all my endeavours and has helped me to sail through the bureaucratic red tapism.

Lastly and above all I cannot forget the contribution of my parents my respected father Sri. Gopal Krishna Bhattacharjee and my affectionate loving mother Smt. Kanika Bhattacharjee who dared to dream for me and without whose strong will I couldn't have successfully run my work in this area. I am also sincerely thankful to Mr. Davy Timothy an advocate by profession in Thrissur, Kerala for his tremendous help and support in completion of this research work of mine.

The list of friends and well-wishers who have helped me in pursuit of my research is endless and it is not possible to thank everyone by name. I take this opportunity to thank all of them for their direct or indirect help.
