

Preface

First of all I owe debt to the Almighty God. I extend my heartfelt thanks and sincere gratitude to the people who encouraged and assisted me in various ways in accomplishing this endeavor, a great challenge indeed. I extend my sincere gratitude and thanks especially to my Supervisor Dr. Arun Kanti Jana, Professor, Department of Political Science, University of North Bengal for his constant guidance, inspiration and encouragement. Without his guidance and counsel, it was not possible on my part to give it a final shape. I am highly indebted to him. He is like my 'friend, philosopher and guide'. I am so fortunate to get him as my supervisor.

I would like to extend my gratitude and thanks to all my teachers in the Department of Political Science, University of North Bengal, for their inspiration, encouragement, love and affections they have shown to me. I extend my thanks to the librarian of our department and also the staff of the Department of Political Science, North Bengal University for providing me the necessary research facilities. I also extend my thanks to the Librarian and the staffs of the Central Library, NBU for their earnest co-operation in the library.

One thing that I want to share that is I have a very pleasant memory of working at the libraries of Jawaharlal Nehru University, Teenmurti Library in New Delhi, ADRI Institute in Patna, Nabakrushna Choudhury Developmental Studies in Orissa. I wish to thank the staffs of all these libraries for their ready help and co-operation.

I want to give my sincere thanks to the librarian of Jawaharlal Nehru University who had given me a lot of materials for my research work. He was really a good person for me because I never went to JNU library before in spite of these he helped me a lot in my work. I want to extend my sincere gratitude towards Niiranjan Mahapatra, Librarian of NCDS, Bhubaneswar, Orissa who has given me different sources for my research work. In Bhubaneswar I went to Planning and Co-Ordination Department for collecting materials in my research area. I went to Health and Family Welfare Department, Women and Child Development Department, Home Department, Secretariat Office for my research work. I am thankful to all the faculty members of this Department who had given me the opportunity for collecting my materials in my research work. I would especially like to thank Sri G.K. Behera, Secretariat Office, Publication Section of Directorate Economic and Statistical Office, Odisha. He was such a nice person. He provided me lots of information about various department in my research area and also supplied me a lot of Government publications from which I greatly benefitted. I would like to thank Mrs. Rashamita, Department of Women and Child Development who had given me lots of materials in my research area despite her busy schedule. I thank all the state officials for helping me in collecting information. I am thankful to the librarian, Mr. Md Ibrahim in ADRI Institute in Patna who had given me a lot of materials in my research area. I must thank the library staff of the A.N. Sinha Institute in Patna and Utkal University in Odisha for completing my thesis. I am thankful to Mr. Bandhu Diggol, library staff of the NCDS Institute who had helped me a lot for finding materials for my research work.

My thanks are also due to a host of friends who were always there with me during my thick and thin. I would like to thank my parents and my husband who accompanied me to different Places for my field work. Without their support it would not have been possible for me to complete my thesis. I am deeply indebted to my elder brother and affectionate Jethima whose blessings and inspiration have brought me up to this stage of my career. I really feel that without their love, consistent encouragement, motivation, countless blessing, everlasting desire and untiring struggle, I would have never completed my thesis.
