

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, I acknowledge my sincere and deep sense of gratitude to my teacher and thesis supervisor Dr. S.K. Bhattacharya, Assistant Professor, Department of Geography and Applied Geography, North Bengal University for his kind supervision, guidance, instruction, cordial assistance, constructive suggestion and active involvement throughout this research work. I am so grateful for his keen interest and constant encouragement at every stage of my work.

I am also thankful to Dr. S. Sarkar, Professor, Department of Geography and Applied Geography, North Bengal University for his encouragement and help in shaping of the present work.

My special thanks to Dr. I. Lepcha, Associate Professor & Head of the department and other faculty members like Professor S. Rohatgi, Professor D.K. Mandal, Professor, R. Roy, of the Department of Geography and Applied Geography, North Bengal University for their valuable suggestions at various stages of this research work. I also thanks to the staffs of university library and other non-teaching staffs of the Department of Geography and Applied Geography, North Bengal University.

The socio-economic analysis and perceptions towards urbanization problems presented in this study are based on household survey. I am also thankful to the urban dwellers who have given me valuable information during my field survey of the town. This research would not have been possible without the contributions of these individuals and the assistance of all people met is gratefully acknowledged.

I acknowledge with gratitude the help and co-operation I have received from the staff of various offices, District library, Cooch Behar, National information centre, Cooch Behar, Bureau of applied economics and statistics, Cooch Behar. I owe immense gratitude to Smt. Anamika Debnath, urban planning officer, Cooch Behar town for her selfless support and assistance during my data collection. My sincere thanks are also due to the officials and staffs of Cooch Behar town for their kind help to the thesis work.

I am grateful to Dr. S. Saha, Dr. S. Gayan and Mr. Subhasis Chaudhury, who are my former teacher but their continuous support and inspiration I am getting till today. You always uplifted my spirit and spent time to counsel me on my studies.

A special mention should be made to my dear friend Dr. Jayanta Das, for his technical support to use GIS tools and statistical methods. Thank you for the inspiration and effort to ensure, I achieved this.

Also thanks should be made about the co-operation provided by many friends of Cooch Behar during the field survey. I convey heartfelt thanks to my friends Subhabrata, Sanjay Majumder, Sanjay Ahir, Jiyarul Hoque and many unnamed who assist me to doing this research and writing this thesis.

Finally, I am grateful to my father Mr. Sunil Biswas and mother Smt. Jyoti Bala Biswas, who have always blessed me with unending love and affection. I owe much to other of my family members who always stood by me patiently accepting every possible sacrifice.

Sankar Biswas
Research Scholar
Department of Geography and Applied Geography
University of North Bengal