

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis has been made possible with the immense support and encouragement of my teachers, respondents, relatives, family members, colleagues, and friends. I take the opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to all of them. I am grateful to the Department of Sociology, University of North Bengal, for allowing me to do my Ph. D. work. I am deeply indebted to my Supervisor Prof. (Mrs) Saswati Biswas for her continuous guidance and support without which the thesis would have never been possible. She shared her valuable insights in formulation of the research work and has been gracious to read the manuscripts and offer observations, critical comments, and suggestions, which have helped improve an immature draft into a presentable thesis. I express my deep gratitude to her. I would like to give heartfelt thanks Prof. Rajat Subhra Mukhopadhyay, for his generous support to formulate my research design and guiding me in the right direction to complete my research work.

I thank Prof. Mita Bhadra, Prof. Sanjay K. Roy, and Dr. S. Sarkar for taught me the Course Work and offered valuable comments on my work in different stages; I acknowledge their help with sincere thanks. I would like to express my gratitude to Prof Rahim Mandal who has extended generous help and suggestions during my fieldwork. It is a great delight to thank Mr. Monimohan Biswas, Mr. Sachin Bagchi, Binoy Goshai, Bhajohari Gosai. Mr.

Ahhilratan Biswas for their enormous support during fieldwork. Throughout the fieldwork, I was fortunate to receive support and encouragement from these individuals. I appreciate the support of all my respondents for cooperating with me and for showing immense patience during the interview sessions. I am thankful to the leadership of Matua Mahasangha, I must also give my sincere thanks to Mr. Manjulkrishna Thakur, Mr. Shantanu Thakur, Mr. Subrata Thakur, Mrs. Mamata Bala Thakur, Mr. Naren Gosahi, as they have help me in many ways during this research endeavours

I express my gratitude to all my friends, colleagues who kept my motivation level high and that is one of the reasons for which I could complete the work within a reasonable time.

I want to express my sincere thanks to the Librarians and Staff of University of North Bengal, Calcutta University, Center for Studies in Social Science, Jadavpur University for their active support and allow me to access the library.

I thank my family members, who have been a source of encouragement for this research work. I am thankful to my wife Mrs. Srimali Lahiri for extending me unfailing support and favour throughout the process and acting as inspiration right from the beginning, without her support the work may not make possible. Appreciate my son Anargha Lahiri who has given me the time and space to complete this research work successfully. Appreciate your good understanding especially when I could not give time to him. Finally, my deepest gratitude goes to my Mother Mrs. Bani Lahiri for her unflagging love and unconditional support throughout my life. I admire you. You made me live the most unique and carefree childhood that has made me who I am now. My family stood closest to me doing silent counseling in my moments of frustration and reminding me about my areas of strength to get the best out of me.

Amlan Lahiri

Department of Sociology

University of North Bengal