

About the Contributors :

Dr. Anup Shekhar Chakraborty is Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science & Political Studies, Netaji Institute for Asian Studies, Kolkata, and member Mahanirban Calcutta Research Group (MCRG), Kolkata. Dr. Chakraborty's publications focus on margins, marginality, hybridity and subjectivity among the peripheral tribes and migrants, ethnic cocooning, nexus of patriarchy and critical engagement in manufacturing of spaces, mustering empowerment. He has received the Sephis Codesria Young Historians Laureate 2006 at Sengal, Dakar, represented India at the Rotary International Group Study Exchange to Orlando, Florida, received Canada's International Development Research Centre (IDRC) and Digital Empowerment Foundation (DEF) and India Development Foundation's "India Social Science Research Award 2009" for his study on Politics of social exclusions and inclusions in Mizoram. He was also the recipient of the C.R. Parekh Fellowship 2011-2012, at Asia Research Centre, London School of Economics and Political Science. His post-doctoral study at LSE was titled 'Contested Landscape and Befuddled Public Sphere: Media, Democracy and Public Participation in Darjeeling Hills'. He is engaged in Men's Studies and Masculinities, Ecomasculinities in the Himalayas (South Asia).

Wasim Akram is a Junior Research fellow at the Department of English, University of North Bengal, West Bengal, India. He is presently engaged in research on Kashmiri literature. He has presented research papers at several national and international seminars. He has published some research papers on subaltern studies, marginalization and gender studies. His areas of study interests include Postcolonial Literature, Indian Writing in English and Subaltern Studies. He can be reached at wasim8159@gmail.com

Sanghita Sarkar Sanghita Sarkar is currently working as an Assistant Professor of Department of English, Siliguri Mahila Mahabidyalaya, Siliguri. She teaches novels, short stories and creative writing. Her area of specialization is gender dynamics in the context contemporary English Literature. Her field of research interest is Children's Literature, Feminism. She can be reached at sanghita.sarkar@gmail.com

Mousumi Hazra is currently pursuing PhD and working as a UGC Junior Research Fellow in the Department of English, University of North Bengal. She has been actively working on film studies (documentaries) and gender theory. Having post-graduated from Presidency University, Kolkata in 2019, she has presented several research papers and articles at various seminars and university conferences and has three research papers published in peer-reviewed journals. Her interest in research are in the fields of film and media studies, feminism and gender theories, cultural studies, and Victorian literature. Her e-mail ID is mousumihazra41407@gmail.com

Dr. Sudarshana Sen, is an assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology, University of Gour Banga, Malda. She has been persistently working on women's issues, especially on the marginal women and women of minority groups. Her published works include a book on Anglo-Indian Women from Palgrave MacMillan. She has written articles that were published in peer reviewed journals on Anglo-Indian Community in India, Gender issues, Research Methodologies. She has presented many papers at international and national conferences.

Dr. Bhaskar Chakraborty-Bhaskar Chakraborti has majored in Economics from Delhi University in 2006. He did his master's degree in Development Studies from TTIS in 2009. He did his M. Phil from Delhi University in 2012. He completed his PhD (provisionally awarded) from Calcutta University in 2022. He is engaged in teaching Sociology at Presidency, Calcutta University since 2017.

Prof. Zinia Mitra - Zinia Mitra teaches in the department of English, is the Director of Centre for Women Studies, University of North Bengal. Her travelogues and articles have been published in The Statesman. Some of her translations, articles and essays are available online. Her books include Fourth Wave Feminism: Social Media and (SI)Activism Kitaab International (2020), The Concept of Motherhood in India: Myths, Theories and Reality. (2020) UK, Cambridge Scholars Publishing., Interact (co-authored) (2019) UK.

Cambridge University Press, Twentieth Century British Literature. (co-authored) (2013) New Delhi, Gnosis, Poetry of Jayanta Mahapatra: Imagery and Experiential (2012) Identity. New Delhi. Authorspress, Indian Poetry in English: Critical Essays. (2012) Prentice Hall.

She is on the editorial board of academic and poetry journals.

Dr. Dahlia Bhattacharya is an Associate Professor in History, University of North Bengal. Her specialization is in Modern Indian History. Her research areas include Diaspora Studies, Gender Studies and Regional History. Her essays include 'Indian Diaspora and Women :A quest for an Identity in Colonial and Post-colonial times' in Maya Ghosh edited Towards Engendering Development, Centre for Women's Studies, NBU, 'The Rajbanshi Kshatriya Movement : A Study of Caste Mobilisation in North Bengal during the Colonial times' in Anita Bagchi & Dahlia Bhattacharya ed. Omnibus of North Bengal: The History and Culture of the Hills and the Plains, Vol –I, B.R.Publications , New Delhi, 'Bengali Revolutionaries and Burma: Swadeshi, Boycott and Extremism, A Tribute to An Icon Essays in Memory of Prof. D.P. Sinha' Edited by Anita Bagchi, Malay Shankar Bhattacharya,Sagnik Books. She is the Associate Editor of Karatoya , North Bengal University Journal of History and Associate Editor of Book - Omnibus of North Bengal , History of the Culture and Society of the Hills and Plains, Volume - I &II,2013. B.R.Publication, New Delhi. Her articles include 'Rethinking the role of the Nepalese of Darjeeling Hills in the Indian National Movement' (1906-1947), in Journal of Indian History , University of Kerala , Thiruvananthapuram, Volume LXXXVIII, Parts 1-3, April, August and December, 2009, 'Brahmodesh pratyagoto Bangalir Itihas O Evacuee samasya'(1939-1962)', Itihas Anusandhan, Volume 25, Paschim Banga Itihas Samsad, January 2011, 'Gender Inequality and Patriarchy: The Migrant Women Workers in colonial India' Journal of Women's Studies, Centre for Women's Studies, University of North Bengal, March 2010.

Published by: The Registrar, University of North Bengal
Printed at: The University Press, University of North Bengal