

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The present thesis was made possible owing to the fellowship obtained as a College teacher under the Faculty Improvement Programme of the University Grants Commission, New Delhi. I take this opportunity of recording my profound sense of gratitude to my reverend teacher Dr. M. Das Gupta, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, North Bengal University under whose able and genial guidance and supervision my labour seemed a pleasure to me. His untiring guidance to me has been always a source of inspiration.

I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. D. S. Dutta, Vice-Chancellor, North Bengal University, who extended unfailing co-operation in my work.

I shall remain grateful to Dr. G. R. Agrawal, Prof. & Executive Director, Centre for Economic Development and Administration, Kathmandu who helped me by supplying the various occasional papers published by the Centre.

I would like to thank Dr. P. P. Timilsina, Prof. & Chairman, Economics Instruction Committee, Tribhuvan University, Kathmandu because I profited from discussions with him.

I have greatly been benefited from the seminars held at the Centre for the study of Nepal, B.N.U. and Centre for the Himalayan Studies, N.B.U.

I extend my warm thanks to all staff members of the libraries of North Bengal University, Tribhuvan University, Kathmandu and Centre for the Study of Nepal, B.H.U.

I acknowledge to Mr. Chittaranjan Nayak, Mr. Ranjit Samanta and Mr. Bibek Pal of the Computer Centre, N.B.U. for their earnest cooperation.

I am indebted to Shri B.K. Bajpai, former Registrar, N.B.U. who always inspires me to work hard. I would like to express my gratitude to Dr. Tapes Chatterjee, Registrar, N.B.U. and Dr. Sankar Datta, Development Officer, N.B.U. for their cooperation in submitting my thesis. I am thankful to Shri M. Majumder, Controller of Examinations, N.B.U., Shri P.C. Basu, Finance Officer, N.B.U. and Dr. H.K. Chakraborty, Reader, Deptt. of Economics, N.B.U. for their constant encouragement and friendly support.

My thanks are also due to Dr. C. Mukhopadhyay, Reader Deptt. of Economics, N.B.U. and other teaching and non-teaching members of the Department for their valuable suggestions and cooperation.

I owe my gratitude to Dr. Ranjit Roy, Lecturer, Siliguri College of Commerce, Siliguri who helped me in various ways to complete my work.

Finally, my wife deserves hearty thanks for her patience through ^{out} this study.
