Investigations presented in this thesis were carried out by the author at the department of Chemistry, University of North Bengal, RajaRammohunpur, Dist. Darjeeling.

The author takes the opportunity to express his deep sense of gratitude and thankfulness to Shri Bimal K. Das, Reader in Chemistry, North Bengal University, for his valuable suggestions, guidance and continued interest during the progress of the work.

The author sincerely thanks Prof. S. C. Ray, and Prof. A. K. Ghose, Department of Chemistry, North Bengal University for their interest and encouragement.

The author wishes to express his gratitude and indebtedness to:

Prof. M. Eto, Department of Agricultural Chemistry, Kyushu University, Fukuoka, Japan, for helping the author to get an analytically pure sample of salithion and a number of reprint.

Prof. J. N. Shoolery, Varian, NMR Application Laboratory, Palo Alto, California, USA for the NMR spectra of some of the compounds, and also for valuable suggestions for the interpretation of the NMR spectral data.

Prof. B. Handi, Head of the department, Department of Mycology and Plant Pathology, Burdwan University for the gift of the pure culture of the fungi.

Dr. H. Yoshida, Pesticide Research Division, Sumitomo Chemical Co. Ltd., Japan for generous gift of some compounds.

RSIC, Bose, Research Institute, Calcutta & I.I.T., Madras for taking the NMR spectra of some of the compounds.

Indian Agricultural Research Institute., New Delhi for supplying pure cultures of some fungi.

The author is very much thankful to his fellow research workers Dr. P. Chaudhuri, Mr. A. Hallick, Mr. A. Nandi, Mr. B. Deb, Mr. A. Sen, Mr. K. Mukherjee, Mr. Prabir K. Roy for their co-operation.

A large debt of gratitude is owed to co-workers, staff, Department of Chemistry, North Bengal University.

The author thanks Mr. J. N. Sarkar for typing manuscript.

The author is grateful to the authorities of North Bengal University for laboratory and other facilities. He is indebted to University Grants Commission, New-Delhi, for awarding a fellowship.

The author deems it a proud privilege to express his deep sense of gratitude to his parents and specially to his elder brother for his sacrifice and constant inspiration and his beloved niece Anindita.
