I sincerely express my gratitude to my teacher and supervisor Prof. M. Sen, whose assiduous nurturing, inspiration and patience is mainly responsible for the completion of this dissertation.

I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to Prof. D. B. West of Illinois University, USA. Special thanks are also due to Sandip Das of ISI, Calcutta. Actually the text in chapter 2 is the outcome of a common work with them. It is pleasure to acknowledge my indebtedness to Prof. F. R. McMorris of University of Louisville, USA and Prof. E. Prisner of University of Hamburg, Germany for their helpful comments. I owe a special debt of gratitude to H. Müller, Fr-Schiller-University, Jena, Germany for sending a preprint which motivated me to find out the results of chapter 3.

Thanks are due to P.K. Saha and P. K. Ghosh of North Bengal University for their encouragement. Many thanks are also due to Bhaskar Pal and employees of Charulata Enterprise for their rapid and accurate typing under trying circumstances.

Lastly, I thank my wife, son and other family members for their support and encouragement through out my long research period.
