

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Gratitude is a noble response for help, rendered by another and its acknowledgement is a source of satisfaction. I would like to record my deep sense of gratitude to a considerable number of persons and institutions who have been generous enough to help me with their value-added advice, information materials and financial help. My first obligation is to the University of North Bengal, an institution of higher learning, for providing the opportunity and support for completion of this study.

I express my deep sense of gratitude and sincere thanks to my esteemed supervisor Dr. B. P. Dwivedi, Reader & Former Head, Department of Law, University of North Bengal, for his most readily invaluable, intellectual guidance, ideas and suggestions in completing this work. He has always been an inexhaustible source of inspiration to me. I am personally indebted to my esteemed supervisor for giving much of his valuable time in going through very carefully every page of this work and also for his scholarly advice, suggestions and corrections. In spite of pre-occupation and dearth of time, my supervisor gave me sufficient time and solution to a number of problems.

I must also express my sense of gratitude to Dr. Gangotri Chakraborty, Professor and Head, Dr. Ali Mehdi, Former Head and Dr. Rathin Bandyopadhyay, Department of Law, University of North Bengal for their value added suggestions and constant encouragement through out the period of study. At the same time, I cannot forget my esteemed teacher Dr. Zafar Mehfooz Noomani, Reader, Department of Law, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, U. P. from whom I learnt a little bit idea of environmental law.

I wish to record my appreciation for the help I have received from my friends and colleagues namely Dr. Jaynal Uddin Ahmed, Reader, Department of Business Administration, North Eastern Hill University, Nazim Uddin Khadem, Lecturer, Department of Economics, Umshyrpi College, Laban Shillong, during this study. I am deeply indebted to them for their value added suggestions and encouragement during the entire course of this study. I am especially grateful to Dr. J. J. Mozika, Reader & Head, Department of Law, North Eastern Hill University, for her constant encouragement, sometimes with anger to complete the study as soon as possible.

I am also very much grateful to my relatives, my near and dears viz. my parents, in-laws, elder brother Dr. B. Ahmed, and Mrs. Mashhuda Ahmed, my brother-in-law Mr. Fakhru Islam Choudhury for their restless inspiration without which the completion of this work would not have been possible. Above all I am thankful to my wife Mrs. Nasreen Akhtar, Advocate, Gauhati High Court, for her constant cooperation, assistance, and encouragement without which it would not have been possible for me to complete this work. Instead of her professional engagement, she has devoted much time in typing, correcting spelling mistakes and helping me in myriad ways in completion of this work. My affectionate thanks are to my daughter, Kashish Samee to allow her father to complete this academic exercise.

I am also very much grateful to the principal Dr. O.D.V. Ladia, librarian Miss Luciana Malnigiang, teaching and non-teaching staff of my college namely Shillong Law College, for helping me in various ways during this study. This column will remain incomplete if I miss to refer to the financial assistance provided by the University Grants Commission for completion of this study. I am also very much grateful to the local authorities, village authorities and dignitaries whom I interviewed during the study.
