

Acknowledgement

My heartfelt thanks and acknowledgement goes to my guides, teachers, friends and co-workers, whose selfless help, guidance and encouragement in course of my dissertation work which to me to swim across the stormy sea.

Prof. A. Bhumali, Department of Economics, University of North Bengal, whom I think as my mentor, whose constant guidance and encouragement from the starting has helped me to take up and finish this dissertation work. I shall remain ever grateful to him.

I acknowledge the kind help and guidance by Prof. K. K. Bagchi, Head, Department of Economics, University of North Bengal.

I cannot forget the help and encouragement made by Dr. S. Majumder, Reader, Visva Bharati, Shantiniketan, West Bengal.

Also I would like to thank the co-operation I received from Dr. D. K. Das, Reader and Dr. S. Goswami, Lecturer, Kalipada Ghosh Terai Mahavidyalaya, Bagdogra, West Bengal from every corner.

I must also acknowledge my indebtedness to Papia, my friend, who unsparingly extended her constant help and inspiration to me throughout this investigation.

I shall never forget the help and co-operation made by Krishnakali, Rupsy and Sujoy in this regard.

Overall my husband Santanu, whose constant inspiration along with my son Arya and other family members always boost me up to reach at the goal.

Tulika Kar
Tulika Kar