

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Reaching at this stage of my life, I strongly feel towards those who have shown me the path of success and were my source of inspiration towards the completion of my research work, though the space is not enough to acknowledge all of them by names.

With a deep sense of gratitude, I would like to express my heartfelt indebtedness towards my research supervisor Dr. Arnab Sen, Lecturer, Department of Botany, University of North Bengal for his esteemed supervision, excellent guidance, constant encouragement, valuable suggestions and great help throughout. His genuine interest and a thorough scientific knowledge have helped me a lot. He has devoted his precious time in checking this thesis with his kind perseverance. I express my sincere thanks and regards to him.

Special thanks are due to Dr. KK Singh, Scientist, Sikkim Unit of G.B. Pant Institute of Himalayan Environment & Development, Prof. AK Misra, Head, Botany Deptt., NEHU and Dr TK Chatterjee of Zoology Deptt., NBU to allow me to work in their laboratories.

My greatest debts are due to my lab-mates Debadin Bose, Shashank Tripathi, Bharat Basistha, Maloy Bhattacharya and Sanjib Ranjan for offering me the necessary help and assistance with their selfless devotion.

I would like to thank my teachers, Prof. KB Dutta, Prof. PK Basu, Prof. PK Sarkar, Prof. BN Chakraborty, Dr U Chakraborty, Dr A Saha and Mr. Palash Mondal for letting me use their laboratory instruments as and when required.

Special thanks are due to Prof. AP Das and Dr. R Chakraborty for their noble suggestions.

During my thesis work I was fortunate to receive critical help and advices from Mr. Ashit Roy, Mr. Sher Bahadur and from friends like Hadida, Manojit, Ganesh, Sriparna, Bhaskar, Souresh, Upkar, Anirudra, Spriha, Rupamita, Bijoy and Saubashya.

I would be remiss, if I neglect to acknowledge my Lab-boys, Mani, Ajit, Poppai and Bablu.

I am also thankful to many other friends and colleagues whose name may not appear here but they all have helped me morally and in many other ways.

My sincere thanks are due to four most important names in my life, my father Mr. J.S. Bajwa for his financial support, constant inspiration and robust encouragement, my mother Mrs. Manjit Kaur who always taught me to fulfill my duties with full devotion and sincerity no matter what comes in the way, my loving sister Raj for her cheerful nature and caring attitude which kept me stimulated and my brother Sukhwinder, who have helped me all through my research both morally and financially.

Above all there is one name for which my words may be insufficient to express my gratitude and it is our greatest inspiration "Maharaj Ji" for his tremendous blessings showered upon me in every sphere of my life.

Last but not the least, I must mention a special name of my life and research, my beloved wife, Manprit, without whose active involvement, this work would never have been materialized. Just thanks will not be enough for her sacrifices.

Balwinder Singh Bajwa
26/7/04

[Balwinder Singh Bajwa]