

C O N T E N T S

	Page
PREFACE	I-V
CHAPTER I : INTRODUCTION	1-15
Background of the Study 1. A Short Description of the Region of our study 6. Methodology Used in in the study 9. The Scheme of the Present work 11. Notes and References 14.
CHAPTER II : LAND REVENUE AND TENURIAL ARRANGEMENTS IN THE WESTERN DUARS REGION DURING THE BHUTANESE RULE	16-53
Introduction 1. Early History of Western Duars Before its Annexation to British India 17. Land- Tenure Arrangement 20. Origin of the Tenurial Arrangement 27. Land Revenue Arrangement 35. Summary 43. Notes and References 50.
CHAPTER III : LAND-TENURE SYSTEM IN THE DUARS REGION DURING THE BRITISH PERIOD (1865-1947)	54-145
Introduction 54. Reasons for Introducing Temporary Settlement in the Western Duars 54. Evolution of Rights of Tenants 57. Adhiars' (Sharecroppers') Movement in the Late 1940s 82. Tenurial System and the Nature of Property Right in Land 90. Implications of Changes in the Number of Tenants and Area Held by Them 94. Growth of Absentee Land- lordism - Its Causes and Consequences 109. Declining Trend of Land Control by Indigenous Castes, Tribes and Communities 124. Major Social Changes Accompanied by Changes in Agrarian Relations 129. Notes and References 136.

CHAPTER IV : PLANTATION SECTOR : ITS IMPACT ON THE SUBSISTENCE SECTOR OF THE WESTERN DUARS

146-186

Introduction 146. The Development of Tea
Cultivation in the Western Duars 147.
Pattern of Plantation and Agrarian Social Structure 150. Impact of the Plantation
Industry on the Western Duars Economy 152.
Notes and References 182.

CHAPTER V : IMPACT OF THE LAND-TENURE SYSTEM ON AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DURING THE BRITISH RULE

187-215

Introduction 187. Drawbacks of the Zamindari
System Leading to Agricultural Backwardness
188. Jotedary System and Agricultural Development
195. Summary 211. Notes and References 213.

CHAPTER VI : LAND REFORM LEGISLATIONS, AGRARIAN REFORM PROGRAMMES AND THE PATTERN OF LAND HOLDING IN THE POST-INDEPENDENCE PERIOD

216-247

Introduction 216. Resume of the Post-independence
Land Reform Legislations 217. Performances of Agrarian Reform Programmes 222. Changes in the Landholding Pattern and Their Implications 232.
Notes and References 247.

CHAPTER VII : GROWTH OF AGRICULTURAL LABOURERS AND
THE CONSEQUENT EFFECT ON THE ECONOMY OF THE WESTERN DUARS

248-281

Introduction 248. Agricultural Labourers in the Pre-independence Period 251. Agricultural Labourers in the Post-independence Period 256.
Causes and Consequences of the Growth of Agricultural Labourers in the Post-independence period 260. Notes and References 279.

CHAPTER VIII : IMPACT OF LAND REFORM MEASURES WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE IMPACT OF OPERATION BARGA PROGRAMME IN THE WESTERN DUARS	282-363
Introduction 282. What is Operation Barga 283. A Simple Methodology for the Investigation of the Six Villages Under Study 288. Causes for variations in Recording of Bargadars in the Villages Investigated 298. Bargadar-Landowner Relationship 304. Production and Productivity in Barga and Non-barga Lands 334. Bargadars and Agricultural Labourers 339. Summary and Some Suggestions 348. Notes and References 361.
CHAPTER IX : SUMMARY AND CONCLUSION	364-375
APPENDICES:	376-401
Appendix to Chapter III : 377-391
I. A Short History of Annexation of Western Duars to British India 377.
II. Land Laws of Western Duars 379.
III. Evolution of Various Forms of Jotes and Leases 382.
IV. Incidents of Different Classes of Tenures 387. Appendix to Chapter VIII; 392-401. The Six Investigated Villages in Profile 392.
GLOSSARY OF TERMS	402-407
BIBLIOGRAPHY	408-426