Acknowledgement

With all humbleness and acceptance, I am thankful to all the people who have helped me and guided me throughout my research journey.

I would like to extend my deep sense of reverence and express my heartfelt gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Saswati Biswas, Professor, Department of Sociology, for her selfless support and care, beneficial advices, valuable ideas, versatile guidance, untiring patience and inspirations with critical comments. She gave me a free space to think where I was able to express and incorporate my ideas throughout the journey of the research till the completion of the thesis. Without the support of my ma'am this research would have been incomplete in every sense.

I also like to extend my appreciation to the Department of Sociology, University of North Bengal, for giving me the opportunity for research and also would like to thank the members of Research Advisory Committee Prof. S. Roy, Prof. R. S. Mukhopadhyay, Prof. S. R. Mondal for their critical observation and guidance consistently.

I pay my sincere gratitude to Dr. R. S. Mukhopadhyay, former professor, Department of Sociology, University of North Bengal, for gifting me important and valuable books relating to the study which helped me throughout the work.

I am highly pleased to thank all the respondents of the study who contributed their experiences and shared their views and opinions without which the thesis would not have been possible to come to an end. Amongst them most precious name is Mr. Premus Bhutia. The knowledge and experiences in the field of addiction which he shared with me is remarkable and will remain inscribed to the thesis forever.

I would like to extend my gratitude to the patience and faith of my family members on me. I do not want to thank my parents but want to express my deep sense of gratefulness for being a member of the family. Thank you so much for keeping the faith and support on me 'Baba and Maa', this thesis is a result of their endless sacrifices. I extend my high appreciation to my beloved wife for encouraging me in every respect and standing by my side always.

I pay my thanks to all co-scholars, friends and juniors for their co-operation and encouragement during the research. Amongst them few names are integral to thesis, Bappi Singha, Rosan Tamang, Megha Nawbagh, Anangana Alam, Kumar Chettri and, I beg pardon to those whose names are not mentioned here due to some unavoidable circumstances. Most importantly, the Departmental staff who have helped me a lot in various ways. Thereby, a big thanks to them for their love and affection.

A ton of thanks to the Central Library, University of North Bengal, staffs and my brothers who helped me beyond their boundaries with a big smile. I extend my love and respect to them, without whom I would not be able to think what I am thinking today about my thesis. Thank you Sanjoy da, Abhijit, Anirudhya da, Sujit and others for everything.

I would like to express my dedicated thanks to the University Grant Commission and University of North Bengal for their financial assistance which helped me to focus on my research completely. In this process I would also like extend my thanks to Amit and Bibek who managed all the affairs of fellowship.

Lastly, I would like to express my thanksgiving to all those people who never expected and considered me as a scholar and always restricted and misguided me in this path. They always poked me to think what I lacked with. I indeed admire their attitudes which helped me to develop myself as a scholar and to reach the ultimate destination of the thesis submission. Keep your good work in this way, thanks a lot.
