THE WORLD UNDER SIEGE: TRANSITION OR COLLAPSE?

MOVES ON THE ASIAN CHESS BOARD

ETHNIC CONFLICTS IN SOUTH ASIA IMPEDIMENTS TO REGIONAL INTEGRATION

10

For long, South Asia has been an epicentre of conflicts including ethnic, political, religious and social clashes. Mohd Amin Mir and Zulafqar Ahmed examine why ethnic conflicts have emerged in South Asia, their repercussions on societies and states, their impeding of regional cooperation and the best way forward for reaching solutions.

INDIA IN THE HIMALAYAN LANDSCAPE SECURITY CONCERNS AND APPROACHES

20

Manoj Kumar Mishra reviews the evolution of India's policies towards its smaller Himalayan neighbours Nepal and Bhutan. China's rising profile in the region and growing interaction with all regional states has whetted their appetite for greater independence from Indian influence. New Delhi must be mindful of the sensitivities of the two strategically situated and landlocked former protectorates, which Beijing seeks to involve gradually in its foreign cooperation projects.

INDIA-JAPAN RELATIONS UNDER MODI 1.0 EXPLORING POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND SECURITY COOPERATION

42

Through the concept of balancing as advocated by the Theory of Realism, Pavan Kumar analyses the current realities of the rise of China and its impact on India and Japan. After exploring the history of India-Japan relations from 1947 to 2014, he assesses the status of the friendship in the five years of the first Modi government through specific agreements, speeches and statements.

---

CHINESE NAVAL STRATEGY 54
THE INFLUENCE OF ADMIRAL MAHAN'S THEORIES OF SEA POWER

If the influence of geography on politics (geopolitics) is a useful key to understand international relations, the factor of water (hydropolitics) is even more important. Michael M Gunter focuses on one small but important aspect of hydropolitics and assesses the influence of US Admiral Alfred Thayer Mahan's theories of sea power on contemporary Chinese naval strategy.

SOUTH KOREA'S TRILATERAL IMPERATIVE 72
FACING UP TO THE NEW COLD WAR IN NORTHEAST ASIA

South Korea has become so heavily dependent on trade with China that its security interests and economic needs seem set on a collision course. According to Songok Han Thornton and William H Thornton, there has been a growing awareness of this dilemma on the conservative side of South Korea's political divide, but the ruling Democratic Party and its affiliates remain in broad denial of the problem.

THE RECESSION, ITS IMPACT AND INDIA'S RESPONSE 98

Robit Kenge and Zafar Khan delve into the concept of recession to understand the current dynamics of the Indian economy. They examine why the 2008–09 recession had a lesser impact on India whereas the 2019–20 one has had a high impact. They put forth a strategy for reducing the effects of the current recession and also analyse it as a business opportunity for exploring new arenas.

FAILING INSTITUTIONS

INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM 110
THE CONCEPTUAL DIMENSIONS

Throughout history, terrorism has been used by diverse groups in support of various causes. Shreya Goswami and Kriti Bhatia provide an insight into the efforts made to tackle terrorism through various international conventions and conclude with suggestions for further measures that should be taken to combat it.

THE PRIVATISATION OF WATER IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES THE INFLUENCE OF TRANSNATIONAL ACTORS	130

Arjuman Naziz analyses the extent to which transnational actors exert influence on local policies to privatise water services and argues that the perception of water as a free natural resource, easily available to a community, plays a key role in the resistance against transnational actors.

PUBLIC SERVICE REFORMS IN AFRICA A CRITIQUE OF WILLY MCCOURT'S "MODELS OF PUBLIC SERVICE REFORM"	142
---	-----

John Olushola Magbadelo reviews World Bank consultant Willy McCourt's paper entitled "Models of Public Service Reform: A Problem Solving Approach", which is widely used as a theoretical framework by other World Bank officials and points out gaps in their perceptions. Accordingly, he shows why attempts at reforming African institutions by non-African experts have had scant success in improving the quality of the services provided to the populations of their respective countries.

NIGERIA'S POLICY ON INTERNALLY DISPLACED PERSONS	148

Nigeria's search for a durable solution to the problem of internally displaced persons so far has resulted only in the drafting of a national policy. Steve Ross Omisore, Olufemi Abifarin and Amade Roberts Amana argue that the policy statement must not be dismissed cursorily but rather should be regarded as a formulation of state practice. They also investigate the current scenario, where the rights and obligations in the national policy appear to have cohorts in binding treaties and national laws.

IS THE WORLD COMING TOGETHER OR FURTHER SPLINTERING?

HOW NATIONS INFLUENCE ONE ANOTHER

EXTERNAL CHALLENGES AS A DRIVING FORCE OF DOMESTIC DEVELOPMENT

10

CASES IN WORLD HISTORY AND POLITICS

While analysing the asynchronous development of the world, Andrey Volodin focuses on the role of external challenges in the modernisation of societies. By bringing together Arnold Toynbee's challenge-and-response concept and Charles Kindleberger's economic primacy paradigm he outlines the notion of a vanguard society, which programmes and shapes basic parameters of modernisation for the catching up nations (the rest).

FEDERALISATION AND GOOD GOVERNANCE FOR NATION-BUILDING

32

CONTEXTUALISING A STRONG NATION (INDIA)
AND A FRAGILE STATE (IRAQ)

Md Afroz analyses the Indian model of federal governance and highlights key features which could aid Iraqi nation building. He offers decentralisation as an avenue for conflict resolution through the reshaping and rebuilding of governance structures. Decentralisation and good governance are essential for ethnic minority aspirations and accordingly the author examines minority concerns as the ethos of the constitutional mandate given to the people.

GLOBALISATION AND HUMAN RIGHTS IN INDIA A COMMUNITARIAN AND MULTICULTURAL PERSPECTIVE

44

Globalisation has played both a positive and negative role in the advancement of human rights around the world. However, according to Pankaj Dodb, the universal sovereign individualism of the West dominated economic globalisation has been unable to satisfy and understand the basic rights of many communities and groups in multicultural societies. Globalisation forces need to facilitate inclusive growth and respect diversity in the world.

EVALUATING THE MORAL PERMISSIBILITY OF TORTURE 58
IS THE LEGALISATION OF TORTURE THE PATH FORWARD?

State-sponsored torture is a depravity impossible to obliterate. Nonetheless Gunav Gujral argues for the moral permissibility of torture using the principle of the greatest good for the greatest number correlated to the ticking time bomb hypothetical. He concludes with a proposal for the regulation and legalisation of some forms of torture as a better alternative to the idealistic but pragmatically unworkable absolute ban on torture.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND JOB CREATION IN ZAMBIA 70
THE APPROACH OF INDIAN INVESTORS 1964–2019

Kamini Krishna focuses on Zambia's economic policies aimed at creating employment by furthering friendly relations with India. She also examines the economic activities and assesses outcomes of companies from India as well as those owned by people of Indian origin in Zambia and by the Indian diaspora outside the country.

DEVELOPMENTS IN SOUTH ASIA

INDIA'S RELATIONS WITH ITS NEIGHBOURS POST-2014 86

An objective analysis post-2014, suggests that India's foreign policy has been proactive and pragmatic, especially in its neighbourhood. Many new initiatives have resulted in positive outcomes. According to Abhijeet, a focused approach at both the bilateral and multilateral levels could integrate South Asia culturally and in an economic sense.

COAGULATING THE LINE OF ACTUAL CONTROL BETWEEN 98
INDIA AND CHINA

Deepak Loomba enumerates the possible reasons for China's new aggressiveness against India on the disputed Himalayan border and proposes various long-term responses that New Delhi could give to deter further attacks.

INDIA, SAARC AND THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC	112
Susanta Kumar Parida analyses the leadership role India has been playing in South Asia since the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic and highlights the initiatives taken to assist other SAARC member states, thereby striving to revive the dysfunctional organisation.
INDIA, ASEAN AND CHINA SOME QUESTIONS	120
P Krishna Mohan Reddy examines India's relations with ASEAN vis-à-vis the organisation's interactions with China for a better understanding of India's position in regional politics and balance. He also delineates significant steps and policies in the dealings between India and ASEAN that have benefitted Indian interests.
ETHNIC ISSUES OF THE LHOTSHAMPAS IN BHUTAN	136
The Lhotshampas, ethnic Nepalese people settled in areas of Bhutan, have played an important role in the administration and economy of the country. However, fearing separatism or a takeover, the Royal Government of Bhutan has expelled many Lhotshampas as illegal aliens. Rana Sonia Tez Bahadur asserts that the intolerance of diversity shown by the government of the mountain kingdom mars its fabled image as the Land of Happiness.
