I would like to express my sincere and respectful gratitude to my teacher and supervisor, Dr. Manas Dasgupta, Professor, Department of Economics, University of North Bengal. It was a great pleasure to work under his supervision for his valuable guidance, inspiring encouragement and untiring effort at every stage of this research work. Despite heavy pressure of work, he took keen interest all along and spared considerable time for me - often sacrificing his extremely limited leisure time. Without his help, I could not complete my research project. I am deeply grateful to my teacher, guide and well-wisher.

I express my deep gratitude to Dr. D.B. Datta, Vice-Chancellor, University of North Bengal and Mr. B.K. Bajpai, Registrar, University of North Bengal for their active support and help in various aspects.

I am also deeply indebted to Mr. S.K. Chakraborty, the former Principal (acting) and Mr. A.K. Datta, the present Teacher-in-Charge who provided the initial impetus to perform research work.

I owe my deep gratitude to Dr. J.C. Dalmath, Professor and Dr. H. Chakraborty, Head of the Department of Economics and Dr. D.P. Pandey, Reader, Department of Commerce, University of North Bengal (now Professor and Head of the Department of Commerce, Vidyasagar University, Midnapore) for their encouragement and assistance I received from them.

I gratefully acknowledge the encouragement and assistance I received from members of the teaching staff of Department of Economics and Commerce of North Bengal University and my colleagues of Malda College.

This Thesis is based on various data collected at different times from different places. Those who helped me in collecting these data deserve my profuse thanks. I owe much to Mr. B.K.Chakraborty and A.K.Sarbajna, the former and the present Chairman of Gour Gramin Bank respectively; Mr. S.P.Biswas, District Development Officer, Malda and West Dinajpur, Mr. N.M. Bhattacharyya, Lead Bank Officer; Mr. U.Dhattacharyya, W.B.C.S., the former Executive Officer of Malda District Central Co-operative Bank Ltd.; Mr. B.Chatterjee, I.A.S., the former District Magistrate of Malda; Mr. B.K.Biswas, District Statistical Officer, Malda; Mr. H.G.Chakraborty, Project Officer, D.R.D.A., Malda and Mr. D.K.Pal, Executive Officer, Malda Co-operative Land Development Bank, for their helping attitude in providing various facts and information related to research work.

I express my gratitude to the Managers of different banks and Officers of different organisations and institutions and Librarian and his staff of North Bengal University who have helped me in various fields for completing the research work.

My students who helped me in the Sample Survey of the villages deserve special mention here because without their help it would have been very difficult to collect the useful data.

I should thank my wife and children for their continuous encouragement, co-operation and tolerance needed for steady progress of this work.

I feel that I could not have finished my work without the blessings from my parents and Almighty God.
