

C O N T E N T S

	Page No.
Preface	ii
Chapter 1 : Introduction	1
I. Raw jute cultivation : Technical Aspects
II. Raw jute : Marketing Aspects
III. Jute Manufactures
IV. North Bengal : Some Geographical and Agricultural Aspects (a) Cooch Behar (b) West Dinajpur (c) Jalpaiguri (d) Darjeeling (e) Maldah
V. Objective of the study
Chapter 2 : History of Jute Industry	27
I. Introduction
II. European Domination in Jute Industry
III. Jute Industry before First World War
IV. The Jute Industry, 1914-29
V. The depression in the Jute Industry, 1929-30 to 1938-39
VI. Jute Industry after 1939

Chapter 3 : Crisis in Jute Industry	61
I.A. Export Stagnation
II. Supply Constraints
III. Financial Performance
Chapter 4 : Jute Cultivation in North Bengal	99
I. Introduction
II. The Production System of Jute : Features and Forces
III. Constraints of the Production System
IV. Nature of Production of Jute
V. Survey on Jute Cultivation
VI. A short-run Supply Response Model of Jute
Chapter 5 : Marketing of Raw Jute	126
I. Introduction
II. Price Policy of Government in respect of Jute
III. Marketing Structure of Raw Jute
IV. Marketing Problems of Jute Growers

Chapter 6 : Role of Government Agencies in Jute Cultivation of North Bengal	154
I. Role of Agricultural Department of State Government
II. Role of Jute Corporation of India
III. Role of Nationalised Banks
Chapter 7 : Jute Cultivation in North Bengal - it's Prospects	169
I. Measures announced by Rajib Gandhi
II. Institutions for Development of Raw Jute and Jute Manufactures
III. Basis of Future Prospects
Chapter 8 : Summary and Conclusion	187
Appendix	196
Bibliography	214