

CONTENTS

CHAPTER – I	Introductory Remarks	1-24
	Prelude to the discussion	1-2
	Unpacking the question	2-10
	Opinions elicited from people of different walks of life	10-12
	Glimpses of different lines of thinking	12
	Arthur Schopenhauer: a pessimist	12-16
	Richard Taylor: a critical thinker	16-19
	Viktor E. Frankl: a psychiatrist's way of looking at the issue	19-22
	Blueprint of the next chapters	22
	References	23-24
CHAPTER – II	Meaning of Life: Viewpoints of Some Major Classical Western Philosophers	25-54
	Prelude	25
	Socrates' view	25-30
	Plato's stance on the issue	30-38
	Aristotle's architectonics	38-44
	Epicurus' view	44-48
	Diogenes: a cynic's way of looking at the issue	48-50
	Sextus Empiricus: a sceptic's perspective	50-51
	Concluding observations	52
	References	52-54

CHAPTER – III The Meaning of Human Life in Analytic Philosophy

55-83

Analytic philosophers' approach	55-58
Bertrand Russell's way of construing the meaning of life	58-66
Ludwig Wittgenstein's way of treating an 'illuminating nonsense'	67-74
Alfred Jules Ayer: the spokesperson of the logical positivists	74-80
Concluding comments	80
References	81-83

CHAPTER – IV Some Existential Philosophers' Viewpoints on the Meaning of Life

84-126

Introduction	84-95
Kierkegaard's view	95-103
Nietzsche's conception of the meaning of life	103-111
Sartre's conception of the meaning of life	111-116
Heidegger and the meaning of life	116-122
Concluding remarks	122-123
References	123-126

CHAPTER – V Meaning of Human Life: Glimpses from Indian Philosophy

127-153

Prologue	127
----------	-----

Upaniṣadic philosophy: setting the tone of a goal-oriented outlook	127-133
The emergence of the concept of puruṣārtha	133-144
Rabindranath Tagore's way of crafting an answer tastefully	144-149
Krishna Chandra Bhattacharyya's fashioning an ingenious answer	149-151
Concluding remarks	151-152
References	152-153

CHAPTER – VI Conclusion 154-175

How to cope with so many answers	154-165
Some reflections	165-169
A postscript	169-174
References	174-175

BIBLIOGRAPHY 176-194