

Acknowledgement

It is an opportunity to express my sincere and deepest gratitude to my thesis supervisor Dr. A K Ray, Department of Commerce, University of North Bengal, Darjeeling, India who motivated me to undertake the research work in this newly developed beautiful area. Moreover, without his valuable guidance, suggestions and constant encouragement this study would not have been possible.

I also sincerely acknowledge comments made by one of the worthy examiners<sup>1</sup> regarding the thesis, I have tried to incorporate his suggestions in the relevant part in this thesis.

, I am thankful to many researchers in this field around the world with whom I discussed various aspects of my problem through internet. Many of them extended their co-operation by providing valuable suggestions. I would like to record my indebtedness to Prof. L. K. Sandal, Department of Mathematics and Statistics, Norwegian School of Economics and Business Administration, Norway; Prof. W. C. Kolberg, Department of Economics, Ithaca College, New York; Prof. J. Rowse, Department of Economics, University of Calgary, Canada; Prof. J. M. Conard, Department of Economics, Cornell University, U. S. A.; Prof. Stein I. Steinshamn, Centre for Fisheries Economics, Norwegian School of Economics and Business Administration, Norway for their suggestions.

I would also remain indebted to those who drew my attention to many recent works in this area and even provided with articles authored by them or by others. People who deserve special mention are Prof., C. H. Hommes, Department of Economics, University of Amsterdam; Prof. J. B. Rosser Jr., Department of Economics, James Madison University, U. S. A.; Prof. G. Sorger, Department of Economics, University of Vienna, Austria; Prof. J. E. Conklin, Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, Ithaca College, New York; Prof. R. Costanza, Centre for Environmental Science, Department of Biology, University of Maryland, USA; Prof. P. Copes, Department of Economics, Simon Fraser University, British Columbia; Prof. R. Hannesson, Department of Economics, University of Bergen, Norway; Prof. M. Lindroos, Centre for Fisheries Economics, Norwegian School of Economics and Business Administration, Norway; Prof. S. K; Swallow, Department of Resource Economics, University of Rhode Island, Kingston, Prof. R. G. Chambers, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, University of Maryland, USA; and Prof. Z. Chen, Department of Economics, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada.

Needless to say, the valuable help and suggestions, from the faculty members . of the Commerce Department, North Bengal University, have immensely benefited me. I consider myself fortunate enough to have constant discussion and association with a group of teachers of different faculties who have been a constant source of inspiration to me and they have also made my staying abroad comfortable and studies enjoyable in many respects. In this respect I would like to express my gratitude to Dr. P. K. Mandal of Physics, Dr. P. Bandopadhyaya of Chemistry, Dr. M.K. Roy, Dr. I.Ray and Dr. H. Roy of Commerce, Dr. P.Chowdhury of Mathematics, Dr. (Mrs) S. Biswas of Sociology, of North Bengal University and Dr. Sandip Das, Department of Advanced Computing, Indian Statistical Institute, Calcutta.

I am thankful to Dr. D. P. Boot, Centre for Himalayan Studies and Dr. C. R. Nayak, System Engineer of Computer Centre for helping me to overcome my cartographic and computing problems.

I acknowledge my debt to Prof. K. M. Golam Muhiuddin of Accounting, Prof. Syed Md. Athar of Management, Prof. Yousuf Sharif Ahmed Khan of Marine Sciences, Prof. Dr. Md. Zafar of Marine Sciences, Prof. Dr. Md. Loqman of Finance, Prof. Harun -Or- Rashid of Finance, Prof. Dr. A. N. M. A, Moqtader of Finance, Dr. Sirajul Hoque of Economics, Prof. Dr. Shanti Ranjan Das, Dean of the Faculty of Commerce, University of Chittagong and Dr. M. G. Khan of EIGS. I am also grateful to all of my colleagues of Finance Department of Chittagong University, Bangladesh.

Authority of the institutes like Chittagong University, Dhaka University, BIDS, Bangladesh Bank, Fisheries Department (GOB), BANSDOC should be specially acknowledged by me, who allowed me to use the library and other documentation facilities. Moreover, I should acknowledge my sincere indebtedness to the authority of those libraries which I consulted time to time, like HM-Calcutta, Jadavpur University, Indian Statistical Institute, Calcutta and North Bengal University. I am thankful for the courtesy and assistance shown by the staff of all these libraries. I am also thankful to Jean Collins, Librarian, Fisheries Branch Library, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Rome, Italy for sending documents related to my study.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Sri Himangshu Ghosh, Record Assistant, Dept. of Commerce for all kinds of relentless service.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge indebtedness to my wife Salma Akter Palash whose patience and sacrifice had always been a source of continuous inspiration to me. During last few years when I spent extended hours doing nothing but my studies, she managed all complicated family affairs without bothering me for a moment. I know that little Mahira and Yousha, my daughter and son, never accepted my absence happily during this period but I hope that they will forgive their Papa in future when they realize that their papa was busy to understand how the world could be made more comfortable for them. Finally I am grateful to my parent-in-law, Mr. Mustafa Kamal Pasha and Mrs Shirin Akter, for their unstinting encouragement and emotional sustenance.
