

Acknowledgement

My infinite gratitude, for having completed this work, is to my valuable teacher and supervisor Professor P.C. Sarkar Dr. Ec.Sc. (Netherland) who is satisfied only with the best. If this work has any merit I should attribute all that to him.

I must also record my indebtedness to innumerable villagers, officials of HIMUL, NDDDB, NABARD, DRDA of various North Bengal Districts, officers of Animal Resource Development Department, Agricultural Officers of Blocks, Subdivision and districts of North Bengal and officers of Gramin Banks at various levels.

Libraries of many institutions including the University of North Bengal, of the National Library (Calcutta), Library of the Indian Statistical Institute, (Calcutta)), Library of the Secretariat of Writers' Building (West Bengal), Library of North Bengal Agricultural University (Cooch Behar) and libraries of different colleges have helped with books and documents.

Teachers and members of the staff of various colleges and Universities of West Bengal and Assam have ungrudgingly helped me in various ways.

My wife (Mousumi), my mother (Renubala), elder brother (G.K.Saha), Chottomama (A.B. Saha) and all my relatives have provided adequate inspiration and co-operation for the completion of the work.

Mr. Pradip and Mrs. Archana Kundu offered a most generous hospitality in the finishing stages of my work.

Dr. Anil Bhumali of the University of North Bengal, Dr. Bimal Kumar Saha of the A.B.N. Seal College and their family members were also kind to give me shelter at times and inspire me constantly throughout the research period.

My thanks also go to Mr. M. Goswami who typed the dissertation carefully.

NBU Campus
Date : 15.07. 2002.

Gour Krishna Saha
(Gour Krishna Saha)