

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Here I place on record my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Dr (Mrs) Sabuj Kali Sen (Mitra) Department of Philosophy and Religion, Visva-Bharati, for her valuable and illuminating guidance through out my research work. Through out this research work, her constant guidance and inspiration alone has enabled me to complete my thesis.

I am beholden to Dr B.N. Pradhan, reader in Philosophy, Bhim Ehoi College Rairakhol, for his kind interest and inspiration during my study. His kindness and sympathetic consideration enabled me to study M.A. course and to build up my research career.

I convey my gratitude to the Head of the Department of Philosophy and Religion & staff members of the Department for providing me with some necessary facilities in this department.

I also thank the staff member of the following libraries for their invaluable assistance and many courtesies during the preparation of this work.

- (a) Central Library, Visva-Bharati,
- (b) Departmental library, Philosophy & Religion,
- (c) National Library, Calcutta.

My sincere thanks are extended to the numerous friends Kripa, Rasmi Rekha, Arun, Vishnu Datt, Gautam, Nilashis, Dillip, and Subodh for emotional support.

I would like to express my deep gratitude to my parents without whose blessings and encouragement I could have never completed this work. The constant emotional support from my elder brother and my affectionate younger brother Babulal and Akshaya will always remain a happy memory.

I am also thankful to Mr Janakinath Dutta for typing this thesis with meticulous care.
