

Acknowledgement

I would like to express my special appreciation and thanks to my supervisor and guide Dr. Koushik Joardar, Associate Professor in Philosophy, University of North Bengal, for being a tremendous mentor for me. I would like to thank him for encouraging me to complete my research work and for allowing me to grow as a research scholar. His advice regarding my research as well as on my career have been priceless.

I would specially like to thank to all the teachers of department of philosophy for their kind co-operation, blessing and advice that help me a lot to undertake this research project.

I am immensely grateful to Indian Council of Philosophical research for their financial support and also thankful to the library staff of the Indian Council of Philosophical Research for extending their kind co-operation during the time I spent my research at their library in Lucknow.

I would also like to express my gratitude to all the authors and publishers whose works have contributed directly or indirectly to the write of the thesis.

A special thanks to my family. Words cannot express how grateful I am to my mother for all of the sacrifices that she has for me.

I would like to thank all of my friends and fellow scholars who supported me in writing, and incited me to strive towards my goal.

Last but not the least I would like express appreciation to my friend, philosopher and guide my beloved husband Mr. Soumitra Chakraborty who was always there in all my needs to support me against all odds.
