

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I sincerely express my deep sense of gratitude to my teacher and supervisor, M.Sen, who has given me invaluable guidance and support throughout my research period.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge my indebtedness to D.B. West of Illinois University, USA; being an initiator in this field of research, he was very kind to take an active interest in my work, giving excellent suggestions to improve and organize my thesis. I owe a special debt to E. Prisner, University of Hamburg, Germany, G.Steiner of McMaster University, Canada and F.R. McMorris of University of Louisville, USA for a number of preprints they sent in my area of study which helped me immensely.

Thanks are due to P.K.Chaudhury of North Bengal University for his encouragement and advice. Thanks also go to S.Ganguli for his fast and accurate typing of the dissertation.

Finally, words are quite inadequate to express my appreciation at this happy moment to my mother, wife Jayati, son Arnab and other family members without whose forbearance and constant inspiration, the dissertation would never have been completed in time.
