

Acknowledgement

In the preparation of this Dissertation, I am deeply grateful to my supervisor Professor M. Yasin, Department of Political Science, University of North Bengal. It has been his constructive criticism, useful suggestions and moral support which have led to the shaping of this dissertation. He placed at my disposal all his valuable time with the utmost understanding, infinite tolerance and patience. It was his constant encouragement and motivating influence that spurred me on to complete this work.

I express my deep sense of special gratitude to Professor P.K. Sengupta, Department of Political Science, University of North Bengal for his encouragement and constant support throughout the progress of this work.

I am highly indebted to all the teachers of the Department of Political Science, University of North Bengal, who through the years have shaped my understanding of the subject.

I wish to thank and acknowledge the help that I received from the Department of Information and Cultural Affairs, West Bengal Government, the office of the Students Federation of India, West Bengal State Committee, the Asiatic Society, Kolkata, the National Library, Kolkata, Ramkrishna Mission Library, Cherapunjee, Meghalaya, St. Joseph's College Library, Darjeeling and the Library of the University of North Bengal.

My sincere gratitude and thanks to my friends and well wishers. My special thanks to Smt. Srinanda Dasgupta of K.G.T. Mahavidyalaya, Bagdogra, Siliguri, West Bengal and Mr. Mirnmoy Bhowmick of North Bengal, St. Xavier's College, Rajganj, Jalpaiguri.

I convey my heartfelt sincere thanks to Mr. Babul Biswas (Babulda) for taking the onus to type the entire dissertation with utmost patience.

My parents have remained a constant source of inspiration in every aspect of my life as with this dissertation. However, the greatest support I have received from my son Sriman Anurabh Chakravarty. This dissertation would not have survived its gestation period without the constant support, help and supply of ample relevant materials for writing out this thesis that I received from my wife Dr. Minakshi Chakraborty.

It is more than likely that I have missed many names here and I fervently hope that those unnamed too will accept my grateful thanks.
