

Contents

	Page
Acknowledgement
Chapter 1: Introduction	1
1.1 Objective and Scope of Study	1
1.2 A Brief Survey of Literature	3
1.3 An Integrated Approach to Fiscal Policy	8
(a) The Allocation Function	13
(b) The Distribution Function	14
(c) The Stabilization Function	18
(d) The Growth Function	21
References	27
Chapter 2: A Brief Survey of Some Basic Theories of Growth and Development	28
2.1 Harrod - Domar Growth Model	30
(a) Savings in India : Fiscal Stimulants	32
(b) Inter-Sectoral Mismatch between Private Savings and Public Sector Demand for Investment	37
(c) Reducing Capital-Output Ratio	40
2.2 Some Basic Theories of Development :	46
(a) Nurkse : Breaking the Underdevelopment Equilibrium	47
(b) Rostow : Stages of Economic Growth	48
(c) Leibenstein : Critical Minimum Effort Thesis	51
(d) Keynes : Advocacy of Necessity of State Intervention to Alleviate Unemployment during Depression	52
(e) W. Arthur Lewis : Capital Formation with Unlimited Supply of Labour	52
(f) Myrdal : Process of Circular and Cumulative Causation; Backwash Effects and Spread Effects	55
References	58

Chapter 3: Role of Fiscal Policies in Developing Economies	59
3.1 Connotation of 'Economic Development' and Characteristics of a Developing Economy	59
3.2 Elements of Growth : Crucial Role of Physical Capital Formation	60
3.3 Role of Fiscal Policy in the Improvement of Human Capital	63
3.4 Role of Fiscal Policy in the Adaptation of Modern Technology	67
3.5 Role of Infrastructure and Fiscal Policy	69
3.6 Importance of Controlling Inflation	71
References	78
Chapter 4: Fiscal Reforms in East Asian Economies	79
4.1 Harmonization of World Economy	79
4.2 Fiscal Reforms for Growth in East Asian Economies : An Overview	81
4.3 Fiscal Policies and Growth in East Asian Economies :	85
(a) Malaysia	89
(b) Thailand	93
(c) South Korea	98
References	115
Chapter 5: Fiscal Policy Reforms in India : Evolution of Norms	116
5.1 Fiscal Reforms and Consolidation in India	116
5.2 Deficits despite Buoyancy in Tax Revenues	117
5.3 Inducing Efficiency in Public Expenditure	119
5.4 Pragmatic Fiscal Policy : Do We Need Balanced Budgets?	121
5.5 Evolution of Norms for Fiscal Policy	126
5.6 Fiscal Dimensions of Internal and External Debt : Its Management	136
References	159

Chapter 6: Liberalization and Structural Adjustment : The Indian Experience	160
6.1 Economic Reforms and Liberalization	160
6.2 Outward Oriented Policy Adopted by Government of India	162
6.3 Union Budgets : 1990-91 to 1995-96	167
6.4 Control over Stagflation	187
6.5 Public Enterprises and Privatization Policy	191
6.6 Reforms in Other Sectors Needed	193
References	198
Chapter 7: Reform of Personal Taxation in India	199
7.1 Limits to Collective Savings and High Taxes	200
7.2 Characteristics of a Good Tax Structure	204
7.3 Canons of Taxation	206
7.4 Reform of Indian Tax Structure : Kaldor's Proposals and Subsequent Changes	211
7.5 Level of Taxes and G D P Growth	214
7.6 Favourable Effects of Tax Cuts on Revenues	218
7.7 A Review of Some Important Tax Laws :
(a) Personal Taxes and Allowances	219
(b) Capital Gains Tax	221
(c) Corporate Amalgamations and Reconstructions	223
(d) Taxation of Agricultural Income	224
7.8 A Review of Fiscal Administration :	227
(a) Stability of Tax Laws	228
(b) Self Assessment System	229
(c) Tax Arrears and Compromises	229
(d) Concessions for Tax Compliance and Reducing Hardship	229
(e) System of Appeals	230
(f) Widening Tax Base and Other Suggestions	231
7.9 Scheme for Disclosure and Utilization of Unaccounted Money	233
7.10 Tax Reforms Committee Report and Its Implementation	235
References	244

Chapter 8 : Reform of Corporate Taxation in India	246
8.1 Corporate Tax Reform	247
8.2 Impact of Fiscal Policy on Corporate Sector	249
8.3 Inflation and High Replacement Cost	252
8.4 Taxes on Cash Flow Mooted	254
8.5 Merger and Set-off of Losses of Sick Companies	255
8.6 Corporate Nucleus Capital (C N C) Super Multiplier	260
8.7 Case for Tax Rebate on Undistributed Profits of Companies	264
8.8 Additional Excise Revenue and Accelerated Investment	265
8.9 Tax – Free Reserves for Stabilization in India	268
8.10 Some Recommendations	268
References	272
 Chapter 9: Reform of Indirect Taxation in India	 273
9.1 Composition of Tax Structure of Various Countries with Different Per Capita Incomes	274
9.2 Role of Indirect Taxes in Subservicing Objectives of Tax Policy	276
9.3 Jha Committee’s Report	278
9.4 A Review of Some Important Indirect Taxes :	281
(a) Union Excise Duties	281
(b) Customs Duties	285
(c) Sales Tax	288
References	292
 Chapter 10: Summary and Conclusions	 293
 Bibliography	 314