

Acknowledgement

I am highly grateful to my supervisor, Professor J.K. Roychaudhuri, Department of History, University of North Bengal, under whom I had the privilege of carrying on my dissertation work for Ph.D in History. It was he who kindled in me interest in the subject and supervised my work at every stage of its final preparation.

I wish to express my gratitude to the University Grants Commission for the teacher fellowship which provided me with the much needed leave for a period of one and half year and the financial assistance to complete my research work. I thank the Registrar and his office, Development Officer and his staff members, North Bengal University for their kind help. Equally I would like to thank all the professors and teachers of the Department of History, University of North Bengal for their proper guidance and love I received during the course of my stay in the campus. Similarly I am thankful to all the staff members of the University library and Seminar library, History Department, North Bengal University for their kind help and cooperation.

I am equally grateful to Dr. C.B. Sunwar, Principal, Sikkim Government College, Tadong, Binita Rai, Under Secretary, Administrative staff and the faculty members of the History Department for bearing all the inconveniences caused by my absence in the college.

My sincere thanks to the officials of the National Archives, New Delhi for allowing me to use all the primary documents for my work. I am equally grateful to Suari Sankar Jimsina, Assistant Librarian, National Library Kolkata for extending me hospitality and personal help to procure relevant records and books in the library as well as the Annex which has some important reports and documents.

I can not forget the sincere help and cooperation extended to me by Tenzin Samphel, General Librarian, Namgyal Institute of Tibetology, Deorali and his staff members for arranging important books and documents for my use for which I am very grateful.

My sincere thanks are due to the Joint Secretary and other staff members, Sikkim State Archives for their kind help and cooperation to allow me to use all the files preserved in the Archives.

My heartfelt thanks are also due to Shri K.C. Pradhan, Former Chief Secretary, Shri S. Wangdi, Former Chief Secretary, Shri Jigdel Densapa Former Additional Chief Secretary, Government of Sikkim, Shri B.D. Kazi, Former Chief Minister, Sikkim, Shri P.S. Subba, Shri Ram Prasad Uprati, Shri Tilak Pradhan, Shri Dharnidhar Dahal for sharing their views in the process of my work. I cannot forget the affectionate help and cooperation extended by Smt. Rosabel Namchy, former Director, Education Department, Government of Sikkim by lending me some valuable documents for my work. My thanks is also due to Shri K.X. Khaliwara, Additional Secretary, Land Revenue Department, Government of Sikkim for allowing me to use Land Revenue Reports of the Government of Sikkim.

I also express my gratitude to my sister Sangita and Tia, my substitute in the Department who in spite of their official duties spared time for helping me to get the first hand typing of the dissertation. I would also like to thank M. Rameshwar Singh who assisted me in composing of the research matter to bring it to its final form. Thank is also due to my colleague Sunita Kharel for helping me in the process of final work of the dissertation. However, this dissertation would not have reached to this point without the support extended to me by my parents, wife Bimala, brother Prakash, sister Indira, son Vinod and daughter Bijayata: they happily endured all the family problems that chased them during my long absence.

Last but not the least I would like to express my thanks to the Department of Education and the Government of Sikkim for providing me necessary administrative support. Without their support and assistance I would not have got this opportunity.